Something for Everyone at 39th Annual Munda Thanksgiving Auction in Freeport, Illinois

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

It seems you can always count on Munda Auctions to deliver when it comes to quality antique auctions. For more than half a century, Munda Auctions of Freeport, Illinois has been one of the region's premier antique auction houses. On November 29th, they held one of their best events of the season, with choice groups of everything from Galena pottery to period Samurai swords. The top-lot of the sale was not quite so old though: a super-clean 1965 Mercedes-Benz 230 SL convertible that drove off for a cool $20,000!

This tiny 4 1/2" medicine jar was the top-lot among the Galena Pottery, selling for a solid $1,300!

A 45-piece Towle Sterling flatware set fetched $600.

Two Japanese Samurai swords crossed the block, with a circa 1600 example fetching $1,400, the 1945 version $800.

There was no doubt as to the top-lot of the November 29th sale: this clean 1965 Mercedes-Benz 230 SL convertible (here with auctioneer Doug Munda & daughter Delaney) that rolled off for a cool $20,000!

Holiday Fun for Thousands of Shoppers and Hundreds of Vendors at Bloomington, Illinois' Third Sunday Antiques Market

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

It's the antiques market judged "One of the Nation's Best" by Country Living Magazine. The antiques market with hundreds of quality dealers from throughout the Midwest and beyond, featuring everything from early American furnishings to funky '50s accessories. Where would you find such a show? Chicago? Minneapolis? Try Bloomington, Illinois, which for twenty-seven years has been the home of the popular Third Sunday Antiques Market.

At Hedgeapple Primitives, this 30" x 43" table in worn blue paint was priced at $350, the blue ladder-back chair at $45. 217-620-8983

Two jumbo litho-tin racers from Peoria's Old Smith Company: the 16" 1955 Japanese Atom Race Car priced at $1,400, the 13" 1930s Marx example at $395. 309-453-5565

Now here's something you don't often find: from Rod & Susan Bartha Antiques, a huge tempered glass water valve body originally used on a California farm's irrigation system. It'd make an unique occasional table, and was priced at $1,500. 847-366-1976

From Steve Gerth Antiques, a 48" painted tin pair of Ideal Baby Chicks road signs with an unusual Black Americana theme, $2,800 for the set. 563-264-8623

Out & About

We hope that everyone had a safe and fun filled New Year! Everyone has returned back to work, hopefully ready to start a new year. I was just remarking to a customer how it seems we are always slow to start the new year and by the end of the year, you feel you are going non stop and in need of a break.

I have noticed everyone seems to be more rejuvenated this year upon returning. I must admit, I could have taken another few days.

This past weekend, the family was busy again. The girls attended their team dinner Friday night. Saturday, we left home early to go to DePere, WI for Brandon's game. Then back to Appleton, WI to drop the girls off to get on the bus. So we could then drive down to Stoughton, WI to watch Mekenzy play, and then back home to Menasha, WI. She won her game 2-1, funny thing, the other goalie's name was Kenzie also. Sunday, we were in Oshkosh, WI for Brandon, where he won his game also 5-3.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

Renee and Marlin's fur babies had a good time at Christmas! It was their first Christmas with Jeff, whom they adopted this past summer. They weren't sure how Jeff (pictured under the tree right) would do with the Christmas tree, but he was a good baby & left it alone! Ben (pictured next to the tree left) chomped on a few branches now & then, but was still pretty good. Both the boys got some new toys & treats for Christmas, which they are enjoying a lot!!

Uncle Marlin having some fun with nephew Jayse on Christmas Eve. Jayse is the second youngest of six kids! He is also going to be the ring bearer in Renee & Marlin's wedding later this year!!

Munda Auctions: Fifty-Plus Years of Quality Antique & Estate Auctions

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

For more than fifty years, antique enthusiasts have been making the scenic drive to historic Freeport, Illinois to see just what Munda Auctions has to offer. One week might feature early furniture & accessories, the next cast iron toys. And Freeport's proximity to the history-rich city of Galena has also meant that Munda Auctions is likely to offer more than its fair share of one of early Galena's most cherished products: Galena pottery.

Produced in the latter half of the 19th century, Galena's potters were noted for a distinctive style of earthenware pottery in glazes that ranged from somber browns to attractive greens and oranges. Munda Auctions often includes several examples, with around a dozen crossing the block at this November 29th Thanksgiving Auction. Most were smaller storage jars, ranging from a little 4 7/8" medicine jar to larger versions approaching a foot in height. And it was that diminutive medicine jar that ended up as the Galena potter winner of the sale, fetching a surprising $1,300.

And while many buyers, both in-house and online, may have come for the pottery, there were finds in pretty-near every category of antiques. Most unusual lots of the auction? How about two Japanese Samurai swords. Both found ready buyers, with the earlier 16th century example bringing $1,400. Scandinavian woodenware winners included an 1858 Norwegian tine that made $425, and a dated-1890 wedding bowl that sold for $300.

And furniture buffs found much to love at the sale as well – from a country mule chest sporting its original faux-grain finish that made $300 to a Sheraton chest of drawers that was a great buy at $110. It really was a gem of an auction, with plenty of surprises, and a few bargains thrown in too.

Some other prices:

- 10 1/4" mottled Galena pottery jar, rim chips - $450
- Paint decorated American rocker bench, 34" in width - $200
- Set of six paint decorated 19th century side chairs - $175
- 19th century horse pull-toy, 8 7/8" - $170
- 35" German feather Christmas tree - $140
- 24" German feather Christmas tree - $100
- Clark's two-drawer spool cabinet, as is - $130.

Auctioneers for the day were father & son team Roland and Doug Munda. Munda Auction has been serving the area's auction and real estate needs for more than fifty years. They can be contacted by telephone at 815-232-8813. And don't forget to bookmark their website too, www.mundauctions.com, for complete auction catalogs, absentee bidding information, and more. And as always, keep an eye out for all their upcoming auction listings in the Auction Action Antique News!

A $100 bid won this Vindex Boston Terrier doorstop.

Illinois River-style preening mallard decoy - $140.

19th century Norwegian painted wood bowl with spout, 6" - $140.

More fine woodenware: this dated-1858 Norwegian Tine made $425, this 15" handled bowl $280.

12" Bennington, Vermont ovoid jug - $210.

Figural horse cast iron hitching post, 17" - $200.

Period woodenware included this dated-1890 Norwegian wedding bowl ($300) and 10" burl bowl that made $450.

A $125 bid took this imperfect 11" mocha-ware bowl.

5 1/2" pease ware jar, some damage - $125.

12" cast iron parrot doorstop, original paint - $140.

5 1/2" galena pottery jar, brown glaze - $120.

7 1/2" Galena pottery crock, damage noted - $475.

This 6 3/4" mottled Galena pottery crock made $425, this 6" brown example $225.

A 15" Galena pottery churn had several defects, and sold for $150.

22" x 19" oil-on-canvas seascape - $120.

A $575 bid won this 11" Galena pottery crock.

11" Galena pottery crocks made $250 and $190.

Norwegian hanging box with lid, in old red paint - $170.

A few 19th century toys were sold, including this horse pull-toy that made $150.

A $350 bid won this matched pair of 19th century portraits.

24" wooden clock shelf, original gilt accents - $130.

10" Galena pottery crock in a mottled glaze - $325.

A $130 bid took this hoop-back Windsor chair in old green paint.

This 2 gal-lon "tornado" jug made $110, this 12" New York ovoid jug $180.

The only sampler of the sale: this dated-1856 Wisconsin example that made $170.

A $300 bidder won this decorated Whitewater potter jar with mismatched lid.

This child's dry sink measured 22" in width, and sold for $140.

Delaney Munda made her ring-person debut at the sale, shown here with a 14" gathering basket that sold for a bargain $15.

Several early comb boxes sold, the best this double box that made $275.

Auctioneer Roland Munda with one of the many Galena Pottery pieces that crossed the block: a mottled 10" crock that later sold for $450.

This 20" diameter mahogany tilt-top table was a nice buy at $100.

Best of the textiles: this dated-1838 New York coverlet that brought $175.

A 38" paint-decorated blanket chest made $175, a refinished Sheraton chest $110.

This rustic cobler's bench made $110, this mule chest sporting its original red faux-grain finish $300.

10" bentwood pantry box, traces of blue paint - $150.

Edison cylinder phonograph with floral-decorated morning glory horn - $225.

Mission oak bookcase, pegged-tenon shelves - $130.

A $175 bid took this blind-front cupboard in a faux-grain finish.

6' wooden barber pole in blue & brown paint - $110.

A $250 bid took this 10" Heintz silver-on-bronze vase.

This 3 1/4" pease ware jar did well, making $375.

This John Sexton & Co. tin tea display fetched $100, as did this 24" Christmas feather tree.

Auctioneer Doug Munda presided over the sale, held at the Munda Auction facility in historic Freeport, Illinois.

14" cast iron plant stand - $140.

The Third Sunday Antiques Market in Bloomington, Illinois: More Than a Quarter-Century and Growing

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

At first glance, Bloomington, Illinois might not seem like the logical location for a large and successful antiques show. If you take a second look though, it makes a lot of sense. Bloomington, along with its sister city Normal, is among the fastest growing metropolitan areas in Illinois. The twin-cities have garnered numerous accolades in recent years as well, such as Money Magazine's "Best Places to Live" award, and were somewhat surprisingly rated as one of the top-five places to play golf in the U.S. by Golf Digest Magazine.

Located half-way between Chicago and St. Louis, Bloomington-Normal is located within three-hundred miles of an amazing thirty-million people, and is an hour's drive or less for nearly three-quarters of a million folks.

The show was founded by Bloomington natives Don and Carol Raycraft back in 1988. Their names may be familiar to you, since they've authored more than fifty books on antiques and collectibles, ranging from Collecting Baseball Player Autographs to the popular Raycraft's Auction Field Guide, written by Don along with his son R.C.

"I've never been an antiques dealer" Don told me, "but I've been collecting since I was a boy. Back in 1988, we realized there was a need for an antiques show here in central Illinois, and the Third Sunday Antiques Market was born. At that first show, we were literally stunned to see 1,000 people lined up to get in, and the show's been growing ever since." Don has largely handed over the reins of the show to son Mike, whose public relations experience serves the event well. "With hundreds of dealers to choose from, shoppers are likely to find what they're looking for," related Mike. "We try to always have a wide cross-section of dealers at each show, ranging from high-end American furniture to vintage toys and sporting collectibles. And it's definitely not a flea market – with a majority of the dealers selling quality antiques and collectibles."

The dealers come from more than a dozen states, some even as far as Canada. Old Smith Company was among those dealers, bringing lots of choice period toys - plus sports-related artifacts from vintage duck decoys to a set of Knute Rockne bookends. And fine art was the focus at nearby Mary K. Miller Antiques, my favorite there a landscape by noted Danish artist Thorvald Niss.

Primitives more your thing? There were great examples all over the show, from the painted furniture at both Bear Your Heart and Hedgeapple Primitives to a wonderland of country accessories in first-time exhibitor Wanda Galloway's display. No matter what your collecting tastes, you're likely to find it here -from rare Civil War memorabilia at Abe's Old Hat to pin-up art to spare right next door at Illinois Pickers.

As its name suggests, Third Sunday Antiques Market is held on the third Sunday of each month, from May through November. Fifteen years ago, the event grew so large it moved to the Interstate Center, a 120-acre facility right at the intersection of Interstates I-39, I-55, and I-74. There, you can visit the hundreds of outdoor vendors in the morning, then if it gets a little warm (or cold), see hundreds more inside the climate controlled main exhibition halls.

Be sure to check out their website too: www.thirdsundaymarket.com. There, you'll find directions to the facility, links to local lodging and dining, as well as dealer information. Of course the Third Sunday Market's 2014 season has passed, but the first of the 2015 shows will be here before you know it on February 22nd. Just keep an eye out for listings of it, and all of the other 2015 Third Sunday Antiques Markets, in the Auction Action Antique News!

from first-time
exhibitor*

ranged from this fancy tin dovecot ($150) to a vintage homemade child-size cupboard priced at $110.

Shoppers found some choice painted country furniture at Hedgeapple Primitives, from an early red dry sink ($1,250) to a rustic one-piece stepback cupboard priced at only $650.

217-620-8983

Two period home improvement signs from Steve Gerth Antiques: the self-framed tin Standard Varnish Works example priced at $675, the Cromar Oak Flooring sign at $195. 563-264-8623

Standouts at Steve Gerth Antiques included this Hardy's Salt advertising thermometer ($165) and Dayton hill-climber tin warship priced at $225. 563-264-8623

Mary Springob's Bear Your Heart had among the biggest & best displays of the show, bringing this rustic corner cupboard in old cream paint ($495) and stack of vintage suitcases priced from $16. 309-310-3596

Holiday shoppers packed the November-edition of the Third Sunday Antiques Market, held as always at the Interstate Center in Bloomington, Illinois.

The American Civil War came alive at Abe's Old Hat, where shoppers found this 7" x 13" "blood flag" carried in battle ($2,500) and cartes de visites including Mary Todd Lincoln ($75) and a ghostly version of Old Abe himself priced at $150. 217-414-3320

Fine art was the focus at Mary K. Miller Antiques, my favorite this lovely Thorvald Niss oil-on-canvas landscape priced at $950. 309-792-1858

Two more finds from Bear Your Heart: the early child's chair priced at $40, the chunky pair of 19th century architectural brackets at $295. 309-310-3596

More great period cartes de visites from Springfield, Illinois' Abe's Old Hat: Robert E. Lee ($175), Teddy Roosevelt ($200), and Confederate General A. S. Johnson ($250). 217-414-3320

The nice selection at the aptly-named Blue & White Stoneware included this stag-themed pitcher priced at $295. 217-971-4442

I found this stenciled tin general store coffee tin at Wendy Norman Antiques, complete with a built-in coffee mill & priced at $1,250.

Shoppers found lots of vintage advertising at Illinois Pickers, like this classis 1955 Marilyn Monroe calendar ($900) and framed 1948 Squirt pin-up calendars priced at $150 each. 309-202-3381 www.illinoispicker.com

Fisher Price toys shared a shelf with pin-up art at Illinois Pickers, where I also found this mint-in-box 1950s Daisy Targette set priced at $250. 309-202-3381

Two Sport-related pieces from Old Smith Company: the 1948 Knute Rockne bookends priced at $375, the boxed Martin Fish Lure at $97. 309-453-5565

Outdoorsmen had plenty to browse at Old Smith Company, like this circa-1930 William Pratt mallard hen decoy, price tag $190.
309-453-5565

Country accessories filled the display of Homespun Collections, backed by a vintage Lone Star quilt priced at $150.

Show-goers found antiques both rustic and refined at Rod & Susan Bartha Antiques, from 19th century marquetry tables to this huge 9'-long vintage northwoods painting that once hung in a Hurley, Wisconsin sporting club - $1,875.
847-366-1976

Toys were the focus at local collector Mark Fore's display, where I found this boxed Marx U. S. Army Jeep with Searchlight Trailer ($250) and Ohio Art Astro Launch board game priced at $30.

Jessi-Bekah's Corner has been showing at the Third Sunday Market for nearly two decades, bringing funky finds like this department store mannequin head ($195) and boxed set of Gay-Lites Christmas Tree bulbs priced at $15.

Soda fountain finds at Wendy Norman Antiques included this glass Daggett's Orangeade syrup dispenser ($400) and Johnston Cold Fudge earthenware canister - $225.

Spend Your Valentines Day At The Wausau Antique Show & Sale

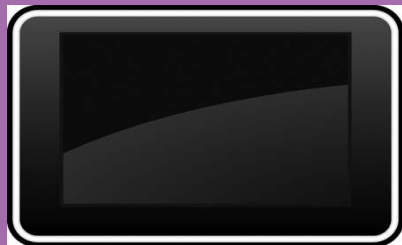

The 30th annual Wausau Antique Show & Sale is Feb 14 & 15. The sale is at D.C. Everest Sr. High School, Greenheck Field House, 2305 Jelinek Ave., Schofield, Wi.(5 Miles So. of Wausau) Sat. 9 to 5pm and Sun. 10 to 4pm. Rediscover The Thrill Of Finding That Special Prize You've Been Looking For

Article & Photos by Nona Knapp
(N.L. Promotions)

Start off the new year with a trip to the fifteenth annual West Bend Antiques Show at the Washington County Fair Park in West Bend, WI on January 17th and 18th. Located just 30 minutes north of Milwaukee on Hwy. 45 at the Pleasant Valley Rd. (PV) exit, the Fair Park Pavilion is a beautiful facility for this quality antiques event. Collectors and decorators alike can select from the wares of 50 professional dealers. Your favorite dealers are returning, while others are new to this event. Expect to find a variety of oak, walnut, pine, and country furniture from large to small pieces. China and pottery selections include Nippon, Flow Blue, Roseville, Red Wing, Hull, and Weller. A wide range of beautiful estate jewelry will also be on hand. Primitives, original paintings, lamps, linens, elegant glassware, toys, advertising pieces, folk art, and much more for every taste will be available for purchase. The show is known for the consistent quality of merchandise it offers to buyers.

Take this opportunity to view items first hand from the dealers. Rediscover the thrill of finding that special prize you've been looking for! Talk with these wonderful professionals to learn even more. Whether you're adding to your collection, looking for decorating pieces, or seeking out that perfect vintage gift, you'll surely appreciate the variety of merchandise for sale at the show!

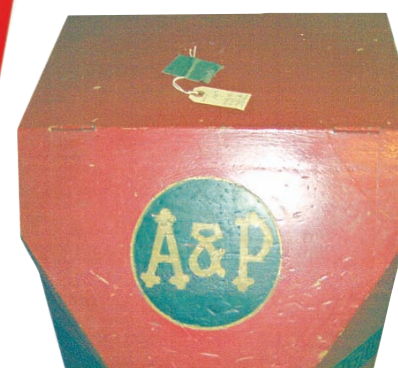

To add to your shopping experience, Catering by Bryan offers a wonderful selection of sandwiches, main dishes, and desserts. All selections tempt the senses and truly compliment this fine antiques sale! Show hours are Saturday from 9 to 4 and Sunday 10 to 3 with a $5 admission. Parking is free. Antique American Glass and Pottery Sale and Show

Article & photos by Jane Schleinzer (20 30 40 Glass Society of Illinois)

The Antique American Glass sale will be held on Saturday, March 14, and Sunday, March 15 2015 at the Concord Plaza Midwest Conference Center 401 West Lake Street Northlake, Illinois. This will be our 43rd year! This show is the oldest Depression Glass Show in the United States.

The sale is sponsored by the 20 30 40 Glass Society of Illinois. The Society members are collectors of American made depression era glass, handmade glass, pottery, and related material. Proceeds from the show are donated to glass museums that help to preserve the American made glass story.

There will be over 25 dealers from around the country. The glass and pottery that will be for sale is all American made. We will have early American pattern glass, elegant or handmade glassware, depression glassware, kitchen glassware, Pyrex, Fire King, and Fenton. There will be something for everyone. We will also have items to help set the table. Such as linens, silverware, etc.

All weekend there will be a glass identification table. Bring in that piece of glass to be identified. Our members will use the clubs extensive reference library to help in the identification. There will be a crystal repair service all weekend also. We have hourly door prizes and a raffle of antique American glass. The winner of the raffle will be drawn late in the day on Sunday. Winner need not be present.

The public is invited during the hours of 10:00am to 5:00pm on Saturday March 14 2015 and 11:00am to 4:00pm on Sunday March 15 2015. Admission is $8.00 per person.

The Society meets 6 times a year to celebrate the beauty of American made glassware and pottery. We enjoy programs and displays on elegant or handmade glassware and depression era glass. Members may also bring in an item for identification. We enjoy a day of beautiful glass, knowledge, food, and friendship.

For more information or photos contact 20 30 40 Glass Society of Illinois Jane Schleinzer, telephone (630)851-4504, email JSANTIQUES@aol.com.
