Attending an auction on Valentine's Day, February 14th, is probably not your first thought of a romantic date? Fifty-Plus Quality Dealers at CSADA's Fox Valley Antiques Show in St. Charles, Illinois

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The Kane County Fairgrounds in St. Charles, Illinois. It's justly famous for the massive Kane County Flea Market that's been held there for many years. Except there's another antiques event that has made the Fairgrounds its home for far longer: The Fox Valley Antiques Show, produced by the Chicago Suburban Antique Dealers Association.

It just held the 58th edition of its spring show and it was one of the biggest and best in its long history. More than fifty-five dealers from a dozen states displayed their wares at the site that has become synonymous with quality antique shopping.

Out & About

Wanted to let our subscribers know that we have been hearing from more of you that the Post Office used to forward your paper, even if your address was incorrect.

More of you are calling us and saying that the Post Office has sent you a note to correct your address.

We receive address corrections from the Post Office, but not addresses that are forwarded. Please know that periodicals of any sort are considered mail that is not forwarded. Even when you forward your mail to a different address, let's say Florida or Arizona, it is only good for 6 weeks. You must call and notify us that you have changed your address or let us know when you are using a different address for the winter months.

Note from subscriber: Dear Auction Action, We look forward to the paper every week and greatly appreciate what you have done so the paper arrives in Tomah usually every Friday. Our paper has been here on Fridays on some Saturdays, which is a vast improvement over the delivery last fall. Thanks again, much appreciation for the Auction Action Grandma and Grandpa (Bob & Jeni) visited last week and spent a day with the grandkids. Of course, the girls went shopping and the boys went where else, but to look at cars and tractors. They all had a fun filled day and then Todd and I met up with them for dinner. It works out nice now that the girls can drive grandma around. Tough trying to keep four vehicles filled with gas.

Kane County Fairground Hosts 58th Annual Fox Valley Spring Antiques Show

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The CSADA has been holding the Fox Valley Antiques Show here at the Kane County Fairgrounds since their inaugural show more than half a century ago. The show has certainly grown in that time, and the fairgrounds has too – transforming from a group of pole buildings into the state-of-the-art 32,000 square-foot facility you'll find today, with ample (and free) parking. You can find out all the details at their website www.kanecountyfair.com.

A not-for-profit association, CSADA benefits several other local non-profits, including the Garfield Farm Museum - which had a fascinating informational display at the show. Settled in 1841 by Timothy & Harriet Garfield, the three-hundred & seventy acre farmstead and teamster's inn is now a living museum, conducting tours of the many buildings on the property, plus countless seminars and workshops the year 'round. It's only a few miles from the Kane County Fairgrounds in nearby La Fox, Illinois. Just visit their website www.garfieldfarm.org for all the details.

The Garfield's would have felt quite at home at the Fox Valley Antiques Show, where the focus is on classic Americana. That was certainly true in the booth of Cothren House Antiques, who displayed great country furniture of all sorts - my favorite a blind-front cupboard converted into a livery in the 1860s with the addition of folky punched tin panels. Want something from even earlier? Craig W. Illa Antiques brought some choice 18th century American furnishings, from a William & Mary chest-on-stand that sold on Sunday to an elegant four-drawer reverse-serpentine Chippendale chest.

And folk art aficionados surely weren't disappointed at the Fox Valley Show either. Iowa's Main St. Art & Antiques was a good place to start. There, shoppers found a colorful mix of, well, just about everything, among the inventory several unusual handmade vintage rugs. And there was great American fine art all over the show, from James Wm. Lowery Fine Antiques' display of Hudson River School landscapes to the regional art in Ron Christman's booth that this time included a work from America's Dean of Wildlife Art, Owen Gromme.

It's finds like these that have kept folks coming to the Fox Valley Antiques Show for three generations. It's one of the best antique events in the Midwest or anywhere. And once you've come, you'll realize that the Fox Valley Show's motto "More Than Half a Century, & Still Setting the Standard" is no idle boast. CSADA, the Chicago Suburban Antique Dealers Association, actually holds two Fox Valley Antiques Shows here at the Kane County Fairgrounds each Year. You just missed the spring edition of the event, always held on the second weekend in March. The 41st autumn edition of the event, held on the third weekend in October, happens this year on the 17th & 18th.

Be sure to visit the Chicago Suburban Antique Dealers Association website www.csada.com, where you'll find a member list, discount admission coupons, and more. And as always, keep an eye out for listings of all of the upcoming Fox Valley Antiques Shows in the Auction Action Antique News!

At Neil Zuehlke Antiques hung a fine late 19th century New England watercolor seascape by noted Rhode Island artist Henry Newell Cady, asking price $900. 262-966-2660

A colorful trio of 19th century stenciled bellows from The Swan House, with prices from $125. 815-784-5537

Furniture finds at Rhode Island's Denise Scott Antiques

Craig W. Illa Antiques quickly sold this American William & Mary chest-on-stand for $2,650, and also offered a nice American Chippendale reverse serpentine chest for $4,850. The 19th century European oil above was priced at $1,375. 573-769-4299

My fine art favorites from New York's James Wm. Lowery Fine Antiques: this matched pair of mid-19th century naïve Hudson River pastels, each measuring 18" x 23" & priced at $4,200 for the set. 315-638-1329

Ron Christman Art & Antiques brought the best of both, with examples like this original Owen Gromme oil painting "Migration over Golden Lake," measuring 18" x 24" - $12,500. 262-968-4913

ranged from a wonderful American Queen Anne maple & walnut highboy ($5,400) to a simple country demi-lune table in old blue paint - $485. 401-886-1633

It was a riot of color in the eclectic Main Street Antiques & Art, where shoppers found oddities including this shell-covered folk art gallon jug - $110. 319-643-2065

At Cothren House Antiques, shoppers found a wonderful mid-19th century blind-front cupboard converted into a livery cupboard with the 1860s addition of punched tin panels - $2,200. Beside it sits a handsome 1840s tilt-top center table measuring 32" in diameter and priced at $1,600. 815-369-2198

At Kentucky's Lana Smith Antiques & Design, this early 20th century sheet iron weather vane figure was priced at $900, the "Shoe Button" advertising shoe below at $475. 502-553-9491

I found this 18th century Vermont-found pine mule chest ($950) at Lana Smith Antiques & Design, topped by a late 19th century frost pattern hooked rug, asking price $900. 502-553-9491

Two funky folk art rugs from Iowa's Main Street Art & Antiques: the early 20th century hooked & sheared version (30" x 50") priced at $170, the penny-style floral felt example (24" x 42") at $235. 319-643-2065

Shoppers found a nice selection of 19th century American stoneware at Thomas M. Rawson Antiques, plus this early, Pennsylvania-found chalkware spaniel measuring 7" in height - $795. 319-389-2041

Two nice finds from Gary Promey Antiques & Folk Art: the feline-themed shirred rug (late 19th century Vermont, 27" x 44") priced at $1,600, the tramp art spice box in its original mustard & red finish at $750. 330-414-6514

Redcoat Antiques came with several rare English miniature wax relief portraits, among them this circa-1800 portrait of Admiral Augustus Keppel - $695. 847-426-3207

Shoppers had many period quilts to peruse at James Wm. Lowery Fine Antiques, including this tiny crib quilt in vibrant red & white - $1,250. 315-638-1329

At James Wm. Lowery Fine Antiques sat this lovely 36" Pennsylvania blanket chest (circa-1820s) in its pristine original paint-decoration - $2,885. 315-638-1329

An elegant American Sheraton cherry dressing table ($495) occupied a corner of Stephen Reid Antiques' display, along with a Sheraton mahogany mirror priced at $130. 815-756-1182

Sebasky & Hildreth Antiques came with great decoratives from here and abroad: from a fancy 19th century Scandinavian a-frame hanging shelf ($1,450) to Staffordshire pottery-to-spare, to a folky 19th century reliquary priced at $495. 218-894-5777

A most unusual 19th century trade sign (two-sided, 24" x 30") hung at Schoolhouse Antiques, advertising the services of a solo cornetist & priced at $975. 314-306-5200

In the eclectic display of Tom Armitage Antiques, this circa 1910 Lenox Soap poster was priced at $1,350, the child-size wicker settee below at $350. 319-270-4554

Wall art came in many forms at Tom Armitage Antiques, from a 10" x 16" oil on canvas landscape by British artist James Barnes ($750) to a deceptive Parker Watts Circus poster ($995) promoting the appearance of Kit Carson.....Jr! 319-270-4554

Military buffs found some exceptional European pistols at Redcoat Antiques, including this circa-1815 pair of brass Blair & Little pocket pistols ($1,950) and four-barrel Belgian "pepperbox" complete with case - $3,950. 847-426-3207

From Missouri Plain Folk, a 4' long farm gate salesman's sample had an asking price of $850. 573-620-5500

A funky vintage rooster whirligig ($395) at Missouri's Schoolhouse Antiques sits beneath an 1879 still-life pastel with presentation inscription - $495. 314-306-5200

At Vermont's Stephen & Douglas Antiques sat a wonderful 18th century blanket chest ($14,000) in vibrant dated-1841 paint & signed John Kumer. Above it hangs a 19th century Cape Cod-found diorama depicting ships at night - $9,000. 802-463-4296

You never know quite what you'll find at Mario Pollo Antiques! In one corner of their display a funky Chicago Fur Storage wooden sign ($675) hung above an elegant upholstered settee - $1,350. 914-954-1341

Another notable textile from Harvey Art & Antiques: this circa-1940s Navaho rug depicting four Yei figures - $475. 847-866-6766

At Schoolhouse Antiques, two 19th century miniature blanket chests were priced at $495 & 1,595; the early 19th century dome-top New Hampshire document box atop them at $595. 314-306-5200

Finest period quilt at the show? Perhaps this extraordinary trapunto quilt shown by Harvey Art & Antiques, with Pennsylvania family provenance & priced at $16,000. 847-866-6766

An amazing array of period samplers awaited at The Needle's Work, from this rare 1825 Ohio memorial sampler ($6,250) to a dated 1826 sampler featuring a modestly-attired Adam & Eve standing under The Tree of Knowledge - $2,750. 309-263-7766

The 57th Midwest Antique and Art and Collector's Eye Shows is coming Sunday, April 12th

Article & photos by Lou & Colleen Picek (The Midwest Antique & Art Show)

Gathering for the 61st consecutive Fall Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Assn. Show, October 5 & 6 in Waukesha, Wisconsin many of the most respected dealers in the Midwest will offer their fresh-to-market wares. Authenticity, condition and rarity are the guidelines for merchandise exhibited by their 53 carefully-chosen antiques professionals.

Exhibitors in this renown show typically save their best merchandise to sell in Waukesha where savvy antiques buyers have come to expect the unusual at fair prices. A sampling of offerings of which we are aware:

- Known for fine English, Continental and Oriental pottery and porcelain, Katherine Walker Griffith of Saint Paul, Minnesota will bring a number of early pieces including an 'Asiatic Palaces' platter by Wm. Ridgway, c1830; an Old Paris Compote; and an 'Isola Bella' Tureen c1840. See Katherine in Booth 28.

- Ginger Wierman, Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, in Booth 39 will bring an early 1900's Ellis John oil on canvas (Wisconsin artist, signed); a primitive blue 28-section storage bin; a rare 20-gallon Red Wing salt-glaze petal lid with handle; and a hand-built 4-door pine corner cabinet, circa 1910.

- Toys are always a favorite at Angus Antiques, Greenfield, Wisconsin, in Booth 12. They will be offering an interesting variety including mohair bears, vintage Disney, and bisque dolls to name a few.

- Somerville's Antiques, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin's wares will include a fabulous red bowl and green trencher in original paint (origin, Maine), a Shaker bent-wood cutlery tray, and two primitive folk art weathervanes (a cow and a pig). You will find them in Booth 37.

- Antiques by Ginny, Wausau, Wisconsin in Booth 9 will be offering a 19th century sheet-metal weathervane horse, a Marx mechanical Popeye with parrot (mint in box & was 29 cents when new!), a 1950s ATC Space Control friction car (mint in box), and a Red Wing 'lunch hour' pig made by a Red Wing employee when he/she was off the clock.

- Two slot machines, a Jennings 'Little Duke' and a Pace, along with a Puritan 'Baby Vendor' trade stimulator will be exhibited by Iron Horse Antiques, Crystal Lake, Illinois, in Booth 31. They will also bring a good variety of oil paintings and watercolors as well as a 9' wooden, all original, BARK RIVER sign and a rare 'California Baby Soap' curved-glass display case.

- Larsen Antiques of Palatine, Illinois will offer a large variety of 19th century antiques, including a hard-to-find velocipede, an early type of bicycle. See them in Booth 7.

- Portobello Road Antiques, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Booth 49, will bring a nice selection of mission furniture including a Biltmore Estates Industries Table, an L. & J. G. Stickley Tabouret & Stand, Tiffany Studio accessories, a Limbert Lamp Table, a Gustav Stickley platter, a Roycroft tray, and Fulper pottery.

- In Booth 30 from Deer Run Antiques, Waunakee, Wisconsin, one will find an original Lou Schifferl hand-carved owl and 40+ carvings, folk art and decoys. (For more samplings, visit their website and click on the "Show Preview" tab.)

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association (called W.A.D.A. by many) was formed in 1948, making it the oldest, continually-functioning State antiques organization in America. Their not-for-profit group is dedicated to preserving Wisconsin's heritage and to providing ongoing education for their dealers and the general public - thus their free pottery exhibit courtesy of the Wisconsin Pottery Association.

The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, Wisconsin 53188, is the home of this event. New show hours are Friday, 11-9 and Saturday, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a Friday Night Fish Fry has been added to the menu so bring your appetite! Admission of $6.00 funds scholarships for high school students as well as grants to Wisconsin historic and heritage groups.

A $1.00 discount coupon is available at: <http://www.wisconsinantiquesdealers.com/> Free parking. ATM is on the premises.

Appraisal Institute Releases Its 2014 “Trending Data” For Antiques & Collectibles

It's been almost three years since the Asheford Institute of Antiques, a professional-level, distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, released its inaugural report on buying and collecting trends within the antiques and collectibles community. But this year they're back with a new survey that's aimed at what the school calls, “the more relevant aspects” of the antiques marketplace, according to school spokesperson Tony Drew. “When originally released, our first survey was meant to merely gauge general areas of antique interest, but now that we've garnered some fairly extensive data over the past few years, we're finding that much of that information seems to be backing-up our initial discovery regarding the movement of certain antique trends within the marketplace,” said Drew.

The latest survey, which was compiled from enrolled students and former graduates of the Institute, was intended to focus on the current trends of antiques and collectibles, and was based on sales and buyer's requests for specific items. And while no measurable scientific practices were utilized, and the survey remained informal in nature, the results still proved quite illuminating, said school Deputy Director, Chris Hughes, “What we've really noticed, is that there continues to be an apparent shift in the marketplace - especially when it comes to the younger generation - categories that tended to gain traction and move up the list in a truly meaningful way, were almost invariably connected to younger buyers. Conversely, categories of antiques that seemed to be off the Internet's central radar, appeared to remain relatively neutral in their respective rankings, and any movement that did occur, was usually the result of older more established buyers.

The link between young and old was not lost on Don Kirpatrick, a 30-something dealer in the Northeast, who participated in the school's original survey, as well as the current one, and who agrees with the Institute's latest findings, “A few years ago I started sensing that younger buyers were interested in different periods, and so I began adjusting my buying - I dumped the heavy ornate Victorian stuff - and instead concentrated on Art Nouveau, Art Deco, and even some 50's kitsch, and it's really paid off.” says Kirpatrick. Staffers from the school also noted this sentiment, saying that many of the respondents from the latest survey had echoed these same thoughts, stating in essence that there had been a noticeable shift in overall buying preferences towards the “flashier” side of the Victorian spectrum. “It's just not my parents antique store any more,” said Julie Walsh, a dealer on the West coast, “I mean, I just can't sell what they sell... It simply doesn't resonate with my generation.” According to Shirley Huey, one of the staffers involved in completing the survey, younger dealers continued to have very different items and inventory when compared to older dealers. In fact, said Huey, “Not only were they vastly different when it came to inventory, but in their marketing approaches as well. It's a trend we're likely to continue to see,” added Huey.

School spokesperson, Tony Drew noted that while the latest survey conducted by the Institute was by no means scientific in nature, it still managed to show the development of certain patterns and trends within today's antiques and collectibles marketplace. “I think our survey is here to stay,” said Drew, “We've had an awful lot of requests since the first one came out, so it's likely we'll continue with them well into the future.”

For readers seeking more information about the school's latest survey, or their Antiques and Appraisal Course, they can be reached at:(877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at: www.asheford.com. You can also write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275ACT6 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124ACT6 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.
