Fine Art & Furnishings the Focus at February 25th Beloit Auction & Realty Wednesday Night Sale

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

There's not much certainty in the antiques trade, but there is one thing that Midwest antiques enthusiasts can count on: the weekly Beloit Auction & Realty consignment auction. Held each and every Wednesday evening, the popular event has drawn large crowds both in-house and online for years with a varied mix of everything from Antiques and fine art to late model vehicles - and everything in between. At their February 25th event, quality collectibles in nearly every category crossed the block, from quality contemporary furnishings and jewelry to some choice fine art.

24" Frederic Remington recast bronze "The Scalp", $1,500.

The Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show - A Northern Illinois Tradition for Three Generations

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The beautiful Blackhawk Center in Oregon, Illinois hosted the Sixty-Fifth Annual Oregon Women's Club Antiques Show on March 28th and 29th. After more than three generations hosting the venerable event, the show is bigger and better than ever. More than fifty dealers, some of who you won't find anywhere else, filled the hall with an interesting mix of antiques and collectibles from the 18th century onwards. All of the show's proceeds go back into the community - supporting the local food bank, student scholarships, and more.

Out & About

We had some excitement around the office this week. Early Friday morning at 3 a.m. dad (Bob) got a call from the police department letting him know that someone drove through the building. So, then I got the call from dad at 4 a.m. We were informed that all the gas and electric had been shut off because the driver had taken out our gas line to the building. When my husband (Todd) and I arrived, WE Energies was still here installing new meters as those were destroyed also. So, Todd and I started making phone calls to get a heating and cooling company to fix the gas line. We needed to call Shawano Municipal Utilities to turn on the electric. Then by chance from the WE Energies guy, we found our carpenter to start repairing the wall. Where the car went through was where Lynn's desk was! Her desk was totally demolished, along with all her computers and our printer. My employees are now nervous when they hear a big noise or fast car drive by. There still is a lot of work to be done, but we were able to get the paper done and mailed on time. So, we apologize if we missed your call or delayed emailing you back. We had a lot to get done, so that we could get started working on the paper.

Beloit Auction & Realty - A Wisconsin Auction Institution for More Than Thirty Years

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

You never know quite what you'll find at any given Beloit Auction & Realty weekly Wednesday consignment auction. One week might feature antique furniture and collector cars, the next fine art and vintage jewelry. At this February sale, the entire estate of a prominent Rockford-area physician filled the hall.

Fine art was here in abundance. The four large contemporary Frederic Remington bronze sculptures on custom pedestals were hard to miss. Best among them - a version of his iconic "Coming through the Rye." The artist's most ambitious sculpture, it depicts four cowboys on horseback whooping it up as they shoot their six-guns. This example measured 29" in height, and sold to an in-house bidder for $2,000.

The fine art winner of the evening, however, was an unassuming little oil-on-canvas landscape by American Impressionist painter Edward Henry Potthast. A lithographer by career, the Ohio-born Potthast moved to New York and years later began a career as an artist at the age of thirty-nine. He's best known for his paintings of families at leisure in Central Park and the nearby New England beaches. This little 9" x 12" Potthast example was more of an ethereal landscape, and went home with a happy buyer for $4,100.

The estate's quality furnishings and jewelry were the night's other big draws. Among the latter, a 14k gold tennis bracelet studded with eight carats of diamonds was the winner pricewise, selling for $3,400. A ladies platinum and 1.51 carat diamond engagement ring found a buyer at $2,900, and a pretty-cool vintage Masonic-themed Waltham men's wristwatch made $450.

Other auction highlights ranged from a super-clean 1999 Mercury Marquis LS that sold for $6,600 to a 208 troy ounce set of Franklin Mint commemorative Sterling medals that fetched $3,000. All of the near-300 lots were on their way home with new owners within a few hours, thanks to the efficient Beloit Auction staff.

Beloit Auction & Realty has been serving southern Wisconsin's auction needs for three decades, conducting weekly Wednesday evening auctions at their facility in Beloit. And while classic Impressionist landscapes don't cross the block here every week, there's always something interesting at every Beloit Auction & Realty sale. They can be reached by phone at 877-364-1965.

Be sure to bookmark their website too, www.beloitauction.com, for the latest information on all their upcoming auctions. Many of their antique and collectible auctions can be previewed online as well. You can leave an absentee bid, or bid in "real time" on auction night if you want. And as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming auctions in the Auction Action Antique News!

Contemporary oak china cabinet - $275.

Blackhawk Center Hosts Sixty-Fifth Annual Oregon, Illinois Antiques Show

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

If you're coming into the little town of Oregon, Illinois from the north, be sure to take Route 2, one of the most scenic drives in the northern part of the state. The road follows the meandering Rock River from Rockford, through the little town of Byron, and on to Oregon itself.

And just north of Oregon at Lowden State Park, look across the river, and you'll see the majestic image of a Native American gazing over the Rock River Valley. This is no ordinary statue. It's a fifty-foot-tall reinforced concrete wonder that is awe-inspiring. The figure weighs more than half a million pounds, and is said to be the second largest monolithic concrete statue in the world. Sculptor Lorado Taft designed the statue as a tribute to all Native Americans, but it's more commonly associated with Chief Black Hawk.

And whether you're antiquing or not, Oregon, Illinois is worth a look. Just twenty-seven miles south of Rockford and ninety miles west of Chicago, it's often referred to as "the prettiest small town in America." The tree-lined streets are populated with picturesque Victorian homes, and in the center of downtown sits the venerable Ogle County Courthouse. Other Historical attractions abound in the area, including the nearby John Deere Historical Site - where Deere invented the self-polishing steel plow that that opened the prairie to agriculture.

The modern Blackhawk Center, just west of downtown Oregon, is host to the sixty-five year-old Oregon Women's Club Antiques Show. The multi-use facility, a joint effort of the local school & park districts, is a terrific venue for the show, and quite an accomplishment for this town of just over 4,000.

There were more than fifty dealers set up at the show, coming from several Midwest states and beyond. And don't be fooled by the show's small-town location: you'll find quality antiques here, the dealers drawn by attendance that often exceeds that of the "big city" shows. Of course, the event is a mainstay for many Illinois dealers, including Country at Heart Antiques. They brought a huge inventory of the country Americana they're known for, from classic New England painted furniture to an early Vermont-found wooden barber pole. The American country theme continued in the nearby Robinson Ridge, who, brought, and quickly sold, a huge eight-foot-long primitive dry sink with a full-length zinc top.

Country not you thing? How about the great military memorabilia spanning the centuries shoppers found at Yesterday's Memories, or the amazing display of art glass & period silver-plate at Grape & Cable Antiques. In fact, you'll find dealers here specializing in everything from tools and toys to pottery, advertising, and more. Just take a look at the photos and you'll see what the show's all about.

Thanks to Oregon Women's Club for inviting me to the event. They said not to forget to mention the fantastic job that show manager Ron Bry did promoting the sixty-fifth edition of the event, attracting many new dealers to the show - and many new shoppers too. It's an important event for the Woman's Club. Each year the show brings in the lion's share of the funds they use throughout the year to benefit the community. Why not come out next year and have a look (and a piece of homemade pie from the Kiwanis Club food concession!) at the sixty-sixth edition of the Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show. For more information about the show, Ron Bry can be reached at 815-732-2219. And as always, keep an eye out for listings of the 2016 Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show in the Auction Action Antique News!

Spring is here and so is the 10th year of the Garden Gate to Spring Antique Show

Article & photos by Maureen Little (Blumen Gardens)

We are getting ready to put on our best show yet. April 24th at 9:00 Am the doors to Blumen Gardens will open and a wonderful world of vintage garden, repurposed antiques, architectural and of course Antique furniture will be on display for you to purchase.

As in the past, we collect food for the areas food banks, this year we will be doing something a little different. As you may know on April 9th a deadly tornado tore through Fairdale, Rochelle and the out skirts and farmland around us. Instead of our $4.00 Admission, we will be taking donations at the door for the Tornado Relief Fund, this fund will help with rebuilding these people's lives, many of these displaced people came to our show and so we want to help them. We will still be collecting food, which will be donated to the Salvation Army in DeKalb County.

Blumen Gardens, will be offering a wonderful lunch in the garden, plus spring baskets full of tulips and many other plants and flowers, if you have never been to Blumen Gardens you are in for a treat.

We are housed in a 19th century brick factory, surrounded by beautiful gardens. The Garden Show is located at Blumen Gardens 403 Edward Street, Sycamore, IL 60178. Dates and times are: are Friday April 24, 2015 from 9:00 AM till 5:00 PM and Saturday April 25, 2015 from 9:00AM till 3PM.

A special drawing for a decorated urn will happen each day, lunch and refreshments will be available in the gardens.

Info contact Maureen Little at 847-321-1712, Blumen Gardens at 815-895-3737.
