The Minocqua Independence Day Weekend Antiques Show - Wisconsin's Northwoods Gem

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

When you hear the word Minocqua, you instantly think of Wisconsin's beautiful Northwoods. For over a century, tourists have been coming to the area to fish, boat, golf, or just plain relax. And for the past twenty-one of those years, tourists and locals alike have been coming to what has become one of northern Wisconsin's finest antique events - the Minocqua Independence Day Weekend Antiques Show. The show's promoters, Carol Zache and Judy Fuchsen of C & J Promotions, have done a terrific job of organizing antique events all over the area, and now host two summer shows right here in Minocqua.

Out & About

Driving in this morning, I was admiring the farming fields, how they look so healthy and green this summer. Some of the farmers are on their 3rd crop for hay. My area where I drive and live, fortunately was missed by the hail storm that went through.

Unfortunately it did hit up north by Bob and Jeni. One of their vehicles did receive some hail damage and Jeni's vegetable plants did get some damage as well. I think she has found a new way to relax with her gardening. She is excited about her plants this year, how they are actually growing and how she uses them in her cooking.

Fun in the Sun at 21st Annual Minocqua Fourth of July Antiques Show

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

One of the translations of the Native American word Minocqua is “a pleasant place”, and that it surely is. The surrounding area is known as Wisconsin’s Lakeland district. Over thirty-two hundred lakes dot the area - one of the highest concentrations of lakes in the world. Oneida County, where Minocqua is located, itself has an amazing eleven hundred lakes within its borders.

Summer is wonderful but short here in the Northwoods, and the town’s population of around 5,000 swells to many times that with vacationers. The Minocqua Antiques Show certainly gets into the Northwoods spirit too, with many of the dealers focusing on primitive, country, and sporting antiques.

Many shoppers here have vacation homes in the area, and the Minocqua Independence Day Weekend Antiques Show is a great place to find Northwoods-themed decorating ideas. Perennial Antiques, The Crooked Ladder, Judy’s Antiques, and J & L Antiques all specialize in period lodge and rustic furnishings from Old Hickory and other well-known makers.

Period toys more your thing? Lee Bernard Antiques had some choice examples, my favorite an adorable circa-1900 German pig that played a tune on a music box hidden inside when his tail was turned. And it’s hard to even describe the display of Sawtooth innovations, filled with inventive repurposed furnishings including a dining table fashioned from a humungous antique circular saw blade.

Jewelry collectors surely weren’t disappointed with the selection at the show either. At Sunshine Treasures, shoppers found a wide array of fine jewelry ranging from 19th century garnet bracelets and shell cameo brooches to stylish Art Deco pieces, along with fine Sterling and porcelain tableware. And Somewhere in Time turned heads with their striking display of period Czech Art Deco and Art Nouveau jewelry, plus a group of Arts & Crafts leather purses in pristine condition.

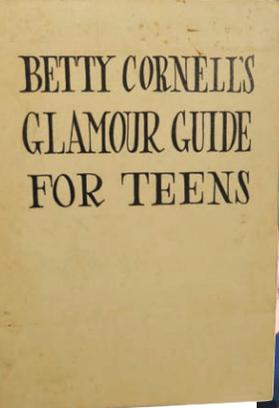

It’s always worth a trip to the Northwoods just for the Minocqua Antiques Show. But of course, there’s so much more to do in the area. Minocqua is the perfect place for a weekend getaway or a summer family vacation. Just go to Minocqua’s website www.minocqua.org, where you can request a free visitor’s guide. And Carol Zache, the “C” of C & J Promotions, certainly knows the area well. She’s lived in Minocqua her entire life, with her ancestors settling here over a century ago. C & J Promotions actually does two shows here in Minocqua each summer, with the second coming up soon on September 5th & 6th. C & J Promotions can be contacted at 715-588-3665. And as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming show listings in the Auction Action Antique News!

Vintage art glass at Circa included this Phoenix Glass Co. Flying Geese vase, asking price $200. 414-384-8608

Two graniteware examples from Antiques by Ginny: the early cobalt coffeepot priced at $145, the unusual brown & white creamer at $45. 715-842-9333

The Swingin’ 60s were alive and well at Circa, where shoppers found great period swimwear plus a fun “Betty Cornell’s Glamour Guide for Teens” book priced at $75. 414-384-8608

Okay, it looks a little like a three-hole privy, but it’s actually an early Caloric Fireless Cook Stove made in Janesville, Wisconsin. It was displayed by Antiques by Ginny, asking price $695. 715-842-9333

Lee Bernard Antiques got into the Northwoods spirit, bringing sporting artifacts like this Chamberlain Cartridge & Target Co. clay pigeon launcher ($175) and hickory splint backpack priced at $130. 262-677-2789

Two great antique German toys from Lee Bernard Antiques: the porker with tail-activated music box priced at $650, the tiny Halloween cat candy container at $85. 262-677-2789

Two more sporting-themed finds from Pam Ewig Antiques: the early (copyright 1895, 24” x 36”) Anheuser Busch “Tom, Dick, & Harry” advertising poster priced at $395, the Mason canvasback drake decoy at $150. 262-965-5869

My vintage fashion pick at Garriott Antiques – this Charles Kuhn Lucite purse, price tag $150. 217-795-4811

Iowa's Garriott Antiques came with furniture from primitive to Mid Century, including this scraped back pine corner cabinet priced at only $395. 217-795-4811

Two distinctive Higgins Glass examples from Garriott Antiques: the geometric ashtray priced at $225, the unusual Famous Inventors freeform dish at $125. 217-795-4811

A wonderland of vintage ladies accessories awaited at Somewhere in Time, including this lovely 1920s Silvercraft bejeweled filigree dresser set - $895. 708-579-3749

Somewhere in Time brought their impressive array of high-end 1920s Czech jewelry, hidden away in a warehouse for 80 years. Here are a few of examples, with most necklaces priced from $300 to $600, and earrings from $90 a pair. 708-579-3749

Camera buffs saw some choice examples at Somewhere in Time, among them this Kodak Art Deco Model 676 in brown, asking price $65. 708-579-3749

First-time exhibitor Sawtooth Innovations came with funky repurposed pieces - from car parts as wall-art to a huge crosscut saw with railroad spike coat hooks priced at $199. 608-921-1915

Two imaginative repurposed accessories from Sawtooth Innovations: the barn beam drill-turned-wine rack priced at $75, the open-end wrench version at $39. 608-921-1915

Two more interesting finds from Somewhere in Time: the 1920s Lindy straight razor with Spirit of St. Louis aeroplane priced at $285, the set of 17 San Francisco Fire stereo cards at $90. 708-579-3749

Indian Creek Antiques had already sold this primitive painted wall cabinet, but still offered this 30" early pine trunk for only $135. 262-363-7338

Judy's Antiques & collectibles came with Northwoods décor to spare, plus choice advertising including this Dominion Royal Tires dealer display priced at $65. 630-258-5577

Two more rustic gems from Gwen LeFevre Antiques: the fancy punched-tin cheese mold priced at $265, the handmade wooden potato grinder at $285. 715-442-2086

Two interesting furniture finds from American Heritage Antiques: the 1940s Price hickory armchair priced at $1,195, the art Deco tubular steel & porcelain wash stand at $195. 715-588-3665

There's always something interesting at Perennial Antiques, from a group of vintage paper mache crow and owl decoys to a 64" diameter dining table made from repurposed floor boards and an industrial iron base, $895. 715-277-3043

Colorful painted furniture and advertising filled every nook & cranny at Crooked Ladder Antiques, where sat this suitably-crooked primitive stool priced at $125. 920-327-2387

Virginia Wierman Antiques came with two bold pieces from Wisconsin abstract painter Brian Kazlov, take your pick for $395. 715-720-9092

The eclectic mix at The Country Peddler ranged from a rare circa 1900 University of Chicago felt pennant ($185) to a hard-to-find vintage blueberry scoop priced at $135. 608-782-5567

Two nice Majolica serving pieces from Weather Vane Antiques: choose either the banana-themed rectangular dish or two-handled bowl for $168. 262-375-0641

Biggest piece at the show? This 12' Thompson cedar-strip rowboat from Perennial Antiques, price tag $1,595. 715-277-3043

Mixed in with the fashion jewelry and art glass at Time's Treasures: this whole family of Skookum dolls, plus a way-cool four-bass taxidermy piece priced at $275. 608-742-7639

Carol Hageness of Sunshine Treasures brought fine jewelry spanning the decades, from shell cameos in gold filigree frames to this circa-1960s gold bracelet studded with four carats of diamonds. 414-463-1796

Rare Cretor Popcorn Wagon The Smell that Sells!

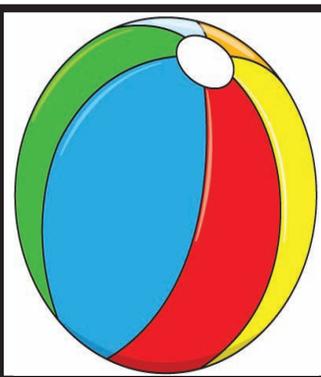

Oh, the smell of fresh popped corn. Memories of the fairs and events when you would have that special box of the fluffy white popcorn treat. I have heard many stories from people who would drive for miles to their favorite spot for the hot buttered popcorn straight from that special popcorn wagon. Where have the wagons gone? There are not many of these special historical vehicles left.

The Cretor Company, who made many of these wagons, was founded around 1885. Charles Cretor was a man of detail enhancing his wagons with bevel plate mirror signs, sunburst brackets, and steam engines as a source of attraction. Another draw was the Roasty Toasty Clown who was positioned in the window turning a tumbler of peanuts or popcorn. A quote from Charles in a 1913 Cretor catalog, "In purchasing a machine, you should pay particular attention to the "motive power", as it is a very a valuable feature. If your power is not attractive, you cannot expect to draw any new trade; the more attractive your power, the greater your business will be; no engine or device equals our engine in this important respect". The 1893 Columbian Exposition was the first major event to host a Cretor popcorn wagon. The aroma of the warm roasting treat, the allure of the steam engine and Roasty Toasty clown kept them coming back.

Baileys Honor Auctions, Carol Miller Auctioneer have the privilege of offering this quality piece of history at online auction. The wagon is a 1903 Cretor Center Bay C. It was a lucrative business in Downtown Delafield, WI for years. There were very few Center Bay C models produced and even fewer still operable. Pittsfield Mass is stenciled on the front panel of this wagon. Berkshire Bank in Pittsfield Mass owned three of these wagons over the years. One of the wagons owned by the bank in Pittsfield Mass was also a character in the children's book "Whiskers the Bank Mouse" by Claudie E Wells, with Art Shardin Illustrations. It was published up until 1977 by the Popcorn Publishers.

This horse drawn wagon can still provide a successful business to the willing entrepreneur or a historical museum piece to your collection.

For more information on the auction contact Baileys Honor at 262-569-8687, personal inspection of the wagon by appointment. You can view photos and video of the piece at baileyshonor.com

Staffordshire Figures

1780 to 1840

Animals, Animal Performers, Dandies, & Murder

Volume 3

Explore the history of the Romantic Era through the whimsy and artistry of Staffordshire Figures. With Staffordshire Figures 1780 to 1840 Volume 3: Animals, Animal Performers, Dandies, and Murder and Volume 4: Family, Friendship, Play, & Classical Subjects author Myrna Schkolne catalogs the enormous range of enamel-painted figures made predominantly in the Staffordshire Potteries. Here is more information on these titles.

Volume 3 of this comprehensive, multi-volume work includes over 1100 brilliant color photographs of Staffordshire figures portraying animals and animal entertainment, dandies, death, and murder. Among the menagerie of animals presented are cats, dogs, and a host of wild animals and farm animals. There is also valuable information about the makers and design sources, along with a values guide. This impressive series catalogs the enormous range of enamel-painted figures made predominantly in the Staffordshire Potteries between 1780 and 1840. Many of these figures are hauntingly beautiful and have long been hidden from the public eye. Fashioned in an era before photography, they give us rare glimpses of a world that has vanished. To hold one is to touch the past.

Standing Room Only at Fantastic Chuilli's Auction

July 4th Firecracker Event in Wittenberg, WI

Article & photos by Chuilli's Auction & Appraisals

This Firecracker event featured the fine quality collections of Doreen and the late Emil Magedanz of Marshfield. Both Doreen and Emil enjoyed traveling the Midwest in search of pieces to add to their collections. Victorian glassware, Carnival glass, hanging oil lamps and Red Wing Gray Line pieces were among the highlights of the sale. Prices were strong throughout the day. The two top lots were both spectacular Victorian bride's baskets. Each one sold for $4500.00. A Victorian condiment set consisting of a pickle castor with ball shaped salt & peppers hammered down at $4100.00 and a Red Wing Gray Line cake plate commanded $4100.00.

In this day and age, more auctioneers are turning to Internet bidding as a sales aid. Auctioneer Jerry Chuilli continues to operate his sales the good old fashion way. He has proven over and over that buyers are willing to travel for quality. There are a large number of buyers who refuse to attend a sale that has Internet bidding. While Internet bidding does have some good points, it generally takes away the in house attendance.

Chuilli's Auction is known for quality sales and through the years they have handled some of the largest estates in Central Wisconsin. Jerry is well known for his superior knowledge of antiques, as well as his honesty and integrity. He takes great pride in being an auctioneer. This is reflected in his presentation of the merchandise and the way his sales are conducted. While he announces items are being sold as is, he will inform the crowd if he is aware of damage, repairs or if the item is a reproduction. In the auction business, a good reputation is crucial. Another quality Jerry has is the way he values his customers. At times he will go the extra mile to show his appreciation.

At this particular auction, Don and Jacki Jensen of Minnesota who were celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary were presented with a cake, bottle of champagne and two glasses prior to the commencement of the auction.

Nowadays, Jerry is wearing two hats. One as an auctioneer, the other as a personal property appraiser. After years of education and training in personal property appraising, Jerry formed Appraisals By Chuilli in 2014. Specializing in dissolution of marriage, he serves all of Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. With no regulation for personal property appraisers, it's a profession he takes seriously. His mission statement is to provide both parties with a fair and competent appraisal that will stand up in court. Another service Jerry provides to divorcing couples is neutral third party standbys for property division and child drop off. In March of this year, Jerry earned the designation APPA. (Advanced Personal Property Appraiser) APPA is the highest designation a personal property appraiser can obtain. There are currently less than 30 personal property appraisers nationwide to hold this designation. It is not an easy designation to obtain.

Recently, Jerry attempted to retire from the auction business in order to concentrate full time on his personal property appraisal business. This sparked a surge of e-mails, letters and phone calls from auction customers and previous clients. This response put a damper in his plans. He now currently operates both businesses full time seven days a week. In his spare time Jerry spends four and a half hours a week taking private martial arts lessons and eight to ten hours a week in his home gym.

Jerry has several auctions planned including a personal property auction on Labor Day for Sally Hansen of Garden, Michigan. This exciting sale will feature an Aladdin Lamp collection and a large amount of Red Wing stoneware. The sale will be held at the Best Western in Wittenberg.

If you are thinking about an auction or in need of an appraisal for an upcoming divorce give Jerry a call. Auction and Appraisals By Chuilli can be reached by calling (715) 253-3038 or Cell (715) 297-2457 Jerry can also be reached by E-mail @ chuillisappraisals@gmail.com

Antiques Abbreviations

by Mike Paul

A while ago a reader asked about explaining some of the abbreviations they encounter in auction ads. This got me thinking about the abbreviations auctioneers use and why we use them. After a phone call to Gloria I offered to put together a listing.

By definition, an abbreviation is a shortened form of a word or phrase used for brevity. Within context and reason it identifies certain aspects of a piece to the buyer without needlessly going into detail. A lamp buyer will know what a “bracket lamp” is. It’s unnecessary to say, “Victorian cast iron wall bracket with mercury glass reflector, chimney & drop in finger font”. Most auctioneers use abbreviations in order to keep the size of the ad affordable. However it can be too much of a good thing and some of the more arcane descriptions can confuse or mislead the reader. To a person who collects a particular category most abbreviations in that category are readily recognized. To anybody else they are probably gibberish. Even a novice farm toy buyer won’t need a three day weekend to decipher IH, McD & JD. WWI & WWII are obvious but would most folks recognize CW (Civil War) out of context? Coins, firearms, Hummels (152/A TMK3 UB K255 HB, anyone?) and other categories all have their own abbreviations that often are exclusive to that field. But if you are a glassware buyer does it really matter if you can’t translate a 28g, o/u, d-bbl, ss w/syn stock and vr?

Some descriptions, while not technically correct, get the point across. For example “Jewel T”, (which is short for Jewel Tea, a grocery chain) takes up less space than “Autumn Leaf”, (a pattern name for china offered as a premium by Jewel Tea). This may seem like a trivial difference but similar descriptions over several publications begin to add up.

A listing that encompassed all of the collecting fields would be more of a project than I can take on but the following abbreviations should get you through most ads for antique auctions. If you have others you’d like to add to the list or that you’ve wondered about, please email them to me at mike@paulauction.com.

A&C - Arts & Crafts. Refers to the style of furniture usually associated with early 1900s Stickley. Often but erroneously referred to as Mission or Prairie.

ABC - American Brilliant Cut. Refers to the “Brilliant” period of late 19th/early 20th century American cut glass

B&H - Bradley & Hubbard. A manufacturer of quality lighting and decorative accessories.

B&W - Blue & White. The glaze colors used on utilitarian stoneware that was often found in the kitchen.

CI - Cast Iron.

COP - Century Of Progress. Typically refers to souvenirs hauled back from the Chicago World’s Fair of 1933/34. Even in the middle of the Great Depression, a lot of Wisconsinites made the trip to see the COP.

CRS - Somebody explained this to me once, but I can’t seem to remember what they said.

Dmg - Damage.

gl - Gallon. Typically used when advertising stoneware capacity

For Rest - For Restoration. Don’t go to the auction expecting a cream puff.

GBCF - Glass Ball Claw Foot. Describes the foot usually found on late Victorian parlor and lamp tables.

GWTW - Gone With The Wind. A style of lamp with a matching font and top globe. Correctly referred to as a parlor lamp but popularly known as a Gone With The Wind, after the movie of the same name.

LRRH- Little Red Riding Hood. Typically refers to the Regal China products that feature her.

MIB - Mint In Box. Any item, but often a toy, that is in the same condition as new and in the original box.

MOP - Mother of Pearl. Polished nacre usually derived from mollusk shells. Typically found in jewelry, ladies dresser articles, buttons and in the windows of RPOG art.

NIB - New In Box. Similar to above but often assumed to be of modern production

NOS - New Old Stock. Old merchandise, often with original manufacturer’s tags and merchant’s price tags, that has never been sold or used.

NWOT - New With Original Tags, but sometimes used as New With Out Tags. eBay sellers are usually guilty of using this both ways. If buying online, clarify before bidding.

o/b - Outboard. An outboard motor.

OOB - Oil on Board. Art work done on a board, usually Masonite.

OOB - Oil on Canvas. Art work done on canvas.

Pre Pro - Pre Prohibition, prior to 1920. Refers specifically to alcohol related advertising.

Post Pro - Post Prohibition, after 1933. Refers specifically to alcohol related advertising.

QA - Queen Anne. Generally refers to a 1920’s or 30’s revival style exemplified by a cabriole leg.

Repro - Reproduction. A good definition would require a separate article but you get the idea. Occasionally people will use the slang “Repop” for repro or “Repo” which is inaccurate and what happens to your car when Vinnie pulls up in a tow truck.

RPOG - Reverse Painted on Glass. Less common as ROG. Any item where the design or artwork has been applied to the obverse side of the glass but typically a lamp shade, decorative framed art or advertising items.

RPPC - Real Photo Post Card. Differentiates a post card that was printed, (developed) off your film from one that was commercially printed. These were so popular that Kodak marketed the 3A folder specifically for the RPPC.

RR - Railroad.

RW - Red Wing. Red Wing, or less often, the several other stoneware companies that called Red Wing, MN their home.

/s/ - Signed.

s/g - Salt Glaze. Refers to the type of glaze used on stoneware and to differentiate it from the later, more common, zinc glaze.

TOC - Tin Over Cardboard. A type of sign made of tin wrapped over a piece of paperboard and hung by a piece of short thread mounted to the back side of the sign. Commonly used in the 1930’s and 40’s by brewing and other industries.

T&S - Time & Strike. Refers to clock movements. Differentiates between time only and striking movements.

Appraisal Institute Releases Its 2014

"Trending Data" For Antiques & Collectibles

It's been almost three years since the Asheford Institute of Antiques, a professional-level, distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, released its inaugural report on buying and collecting trends within the antiques and collectibles community. But this year they're back with a new survey that's aimed at what the school calls, "the more relevant aspects" of the antiques marketplace, according to school spokesperson Tony Drew. "When originally released, our first survey was meant to merely gauge general areas of antique interest, but now that we've garnered some fairly extensive data over the past few years, we're finding that much of that information seems to be backing-up our initial discovery regarding the movement of certain antique trends within the marketplace," said Drew.

The latest survey, which was compiled from enrolled students and former graduates of the Institute, was intended to focus on the current trends of antiques and collectibles, and was based on sales and buyer's requests for specific items. And while no measurable scientific practices were utilized, and the survey remained informal in nature, the results still proved quite illuminating, said school Deputy Director, Chris Hughes, "What we've really noticed, is that there continues to be an apparent shift in the marketplace - especially when it comes to the younger generation - categories that tended to gain traction and move up the list in a truly meaningful way, were almost invariably connected to younger buyers. Conversely, categories of antiques that seemed to be off the Internet's central radar, appeared to remain relatively neutral in their respective rankings, and any movement that did occur, was usually the result of older more established buyers.

The link between young and old was not lost on Don Kirpatrick, a 30-something dealer in the Northeast, who participated in the school's original survey, as well as the current one, and who agrees with the Institute's latest findings, "A few years ago I started sensing that younger buyers were interested in different periods, and so I began adjusting my buying - I dumped the heavy ornate Victorian stuff - and instead concentrated on Art Nouveau, Art Deco, and even some 50's kitsch, and it's really paid off," says Kirpatrick. Staffers from the school also noted this sentiment, saying that many of the respondents from the latest survey had echoed these same thoughts, stating in essence that there had been a noticeable shift in overall buying preferences towards the "flashier" side of the Victorian spectrum. "It's just not my parents' antique store any more," said Julie Walsh, a dealer on the West coast, "I mean, I just can't sell what they sell... It simply doesn't resonate with my generation." According to Shirley Huey, one of the staffers involved in completing the survey, younger dealers continued to have very different items and inventory when compared to older dealers. In fact, said Huey, "Not only were they vastly different when it came to inventory, but in their marketing approaches as well. It's a trend we're likely to continue to see," added Huey.

School spokesperson, Tony Drew noted that while the latest survey conducted by the Institute was by no means scientific in nature, it still managed to show the development of certain patterns and trends within today's antiques and collectibles marketplace. "I think our survey is here to stay," said Drew, "We've had an awful lot of requests since the first one came out, so it's likely we'll continue with them well into the future."

For readers seeking more information about the school's latest survey, or their Antiques and Appraisal Course, they can be reached at:(877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at: www.asheford.com. You can also write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275ACT6 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124ACT6 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.
