Sold Out Dealer Count At August 17th for Annual Kalamazoo BB Gun Show

Ohio Art tin toy collectors checked out the 1950s Carnival shooting gallery, with original box, priced at $100 by Patrick Keebey from St. Peters, Mo. 636-928-3918.

Article & photos by Jack Kelly

Once again this year it was weeks before the August 16th annual Kalamazoo BB Gun Show when promoter Wes Powers and wife Theresa closed the registration for vendors - because again, it was SOLD OUT!

The Expo Center at the Kalamazoo, Michigan, Fairgrounds was the scene of all the activities, with dealers covering 106 tables with BB guns, toys, advertising literature and much, much more.

While some dealers traveled from spots in Michigan and surrounding states, others drove across the country to visit with fellow collectors.

Toy collectors looked over his 1940's tin Buck Rogers "Liquid Helium Water Pistol" priced at $325. 810-229-2673.

Dee Evans of Monroe, Michigan, assisted husband Scott at the Kalamazoo show. Here she shows off a 1950's Daisy Rocket Dart Pistol, with original cardboard and mounting board, priced at $375. At the same spot, a 1900's King BB gun advertising piece could be taken home for $125. 734-735-3534.

Bidders Say Farewell to Little Norway Museum at Great August 15th Gavin Bros. Auction

Only one structure sold at auction: this reproduction Norwegian stabbur (granary) that brought $6,500.

Many bidders vied for the historically-accurate Norwegian costumes worn by Little Norway guides over the years, with the best examples selling for up to $775.

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

In the more than half-a-century that Gavin Bros. Auctioneers has been in business, they've conducted many thousands of auctions. A few stand out from the rest. That was most certainly true of an August 15th sale they conducted in scenic Blue Mounds, Wisconsin: artifacts from the beloved Badger State tourist attraction called Little Norway. Held right on the grounds of the venerable living museum, the auction featured pieces displayed during Little Norway's seventy-five-years of operation. Examples ranged from period jewelry & textiles to the largest lot of the sale: a massive log stabbur (granary building) that sold for $6,500!

This paint decorated reproduction Norwegian chair brought $700.

Dated-1868 trunk with hidden drawer behind removable side panel - $1,100.

Out & About

I hope that everyone had a safe and wonderful Labor Day Weekend. My husband warns me every year, unfortunately I did not leave work early enough to miss the traffic. This was the first time that I encountered traffic backed up for over a mile and a half. We were all backed up for one light in town.

Nice thing was, it broke us up enough that it was leaving enough room between each group of cars.

Don't want to miss those fantastic finds. The girls are still looking into colleges. Mekenzy has been in contact with Arizona State, she will be majoring in Kinesiology and minoring with Physical Therapy for amputees. Arizona recommended she contact their Technology Program to see if she would have an interest in the designing of prosthetics. Hockey is in full season starting this week. Tia will major in biology with a molecular cell focus with a Spanish and math minor. Both girls have been supporting their football team by attending their games on the weekends, although, we did not do well

Grandpa & Brandon wanted everyone to know that Brandon responsibly handled everything about his car. From finding of the car, dealing with the sellers, to getting it delivered & helping unload it. Brandon, spoke with his Grandparents about his vision of fixing this car up for his own. He asked if there was a way they could help him achieve this goal. So, he worked out a plan with them, he would spend a few weeks working for them up north to work off his car. That is exactly what he did, he was a busy man, from fixing a retaining wall to building a new edition of a retaining wall, racked seaweeds on the shoreline, he did it all & more. Grandpa had quotas for each job & Brandon fulfilled everyone of them. This car had been sitting in a barn for over 20 years. It is the perfect find for him to put his love of vehicles to the test. Brandon & his dad have gotten it running & it sounds wonderful! He even impressed his dad with some of his knowledge obtained by youtube on how to clean the fuel pump points, which Todd did let him do all by himself. Now he needs to figure out the transmission.

Scandinavian Relics Large & Small at Gavin Bros. Little Norway Museum Auction in Blue Mounds, Wisconsin

So, where's the perfect place to be on a sunny Wisconsin August morning? How about the grounds of the Little Norway Living Museum, nestled in the scenic wooded hills just outside of the village of Blue Mound. That was the setting for an August 15th Gavin Bros. auction, held to sell artifacts from the recently-closed cultural attraction.

I'm sure it was a bittersweet day for Little Norway's current owner Scott Winner, who was on hand to answer questions throughout the day. He literally grew up right on the grounds of the museum founded by his great uncle Isak Dahle in the 1930s. Dahle had purchased the farmstead a decade earlier - originally built by one of the many Norwegian immigrants that settled in this picturesque part of the state. Over the years he renovated the original farm buildings, filled them with antiques from Norway and America and eventually opened what has since been known as Little Norway.

But the crowning jewel of Little Norway, "The Norway Building," came from much farther away. The imposing structure is one of the few examples of Norse stave church architecture outside of Norway. Built in Trondheim, Norway for the Norway Pavilion at Chicago's 1893 World's Columbian Exposition, it was then moved to Lake Geneva, Wisconsin by a prominent Chicago tycoon after the exposition's closing.

After changing owners several times, The Norway Building fell into disrepair during the Great Depression. It was purchased by Little Norway founder Isak Dahle in 1935 and moved to the museum grounds where it was restored and has stood to this day. Not for long though! A group from Trondheim has purchased the iconic structure, and soon it will be disassembled for an ocean voyage back to the very town where it was built.

There were hundreds of artifacts left for the bidders though, waiting both under the big-top tent and all over the museum grounds. Vintage rosemaled objects (rosemaling a stylized paint decoration popular in 18th & 19th century Norway) made by local artisans proved popular, with Telemark-style painted chairs fetching up to $700 apiece. And of the authentic 19th century rosemaled pieces, a dated-1868 trunk in faded original paint was the winner at $1,100. The historically-accurate Norwegian costumes worn by the museum's guides found ready buyers too, with the best examples selling for more than $700.

All in all, it was a good time for everyone. I hope the photos give you a small idea of what you missed. The Gavin team did their usual terrific job handling the sale, with all the bidders on their way home by mid-afternoon.

A few more prices:

- Figural three-nudes bronze vase, 10" - $230
- 16" champlevé vase - $210
- Choice of vintage Solje jewelry - $150
- 19th century oil, ladies gleaning wheat - $120

• Auctioneers for the day included Robert, Matt, and Jim Gavin. Stihl MS 180-C chainsaw - $190

• DeWalt miter saw - $90

• Milwaukee Sawzall - $50

• Primitive wood & iron hoop driver - $30

Gavin Bros. Auction & Realty has been serving the area for three generations, conducting over one hundred & fifty auctions of all kinds each year. A quick look at their auction calendar showed sixteen sales - everything from real estate to farm equipment - and that was just in August! They can be reached at 608-524-6416. Don't forget to bookmark their website www.gavinbros.com, and as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming auction listings in the Auction Action Antique News!

Of the Majolica pottery pieces, a triangular pitcher made $140, a footed compote $110.

Winner of the period copper & brassware: this 19th century copper kettle that brought $130.

A pair of vintage Norwegian-costumed dolls made $310.

Norwegian trunk with later rosemaled decoration - $145.

Early Norwegian iron lockset - $190.

Vintage rosemaled plates made by area artists sold for up to $75 each.

It took a $650 bid to win this paint-decorated Scandinavian hanging corner cupboard.

This ornate Acorn cast iron stove was a nice buy at $225.

Extra-rustic wood & iron box grater - $250.

A "Crown of Thorns" type double picture frame made $120.

Spinning wheel anyone? Nearly a dozen sold here, most for under $100.

A bevy of antique & reference books crossed the block, among them a set of two 19th century French dictionaries that made $160.

Several vintage quilts sold, including a colorful "honeycomb" example that made $155.

Auctioneer Jim Gavin coaxes another bid on a country harvest table that brought $170.

Furniture deal of the day: this circa 1900 oak buffet that sold for $50.

Interesting 19th century Norwegian paint-decorated furnishings included a jumbo trunk that made $325, and a country drop-front desk & chest that sold for $310.

This 1966 Chevrolet stake truck worked around the property, and sold for $1,750.

A 12" champlevé jardinière made $150, a pair of brass-plated candle sconces $400.

It was a chance for bidders to say goodbye to the reconstructed farmstead called Little Norway for the last time, a beloved tourist destination in southwest Wisconsin for nearly ninety years.

Large carved dough bowl, $90, lefse pins $22.50 each.

There was welcome relief from the summer sun under the big-top tent set up right on the Little Norway grounds, site of this huge August 15th Gavin Bros. Auction.

Early 20th century ladies secretary & bookcase - $300.

Crowning jewel of Little Norway: this authentic Norwegian Stave Church, originally made as the centerpiece of Norway's exhibit at the 1893 Chicago World's Fair. And after more than 120 years in America, the church will soon be returned to Trondheim, Norway - the very town where it was crafted in.

A $220 bid took this reproduction rustic corner seat.

Set of six Christian Christensen prints - $180.

Examples of some of the unusual 19th century carved chairs at the sale, with some bringing $300 or more.

Auctioneer Jim Gavin sells an ornate 19th century hall tree for $250.

An interesting Continental corner clock cabinet (sans movement) sold for $220.

The Central Illinois Antique Dealers Association 2015 Fall Show... Bloomington's Original Antique Show

Article by Priscilla Lindstrom

This semi-annual show marks the Central Illinois Antique Dealers Association's 96th consecutive show and will be held at the Interstate Center, 2301 West Market Street, Bloomington, Illinois (West of Rte. 55/74 on Rte. 9, Exit 160).

The show will take place on Saturday, October 31st: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. & Sunday, November 1st: 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In order to recognize changes in the antique and collectible market, new show managers, Richard and Priscilla Lindstrom, are working closely with dealers to update the show and better serve its patrons with a wider variety of merchandise for sale. This expansion will allow dealers to display and sell items from the Mid-Century Modern, Danish Modern and Post Modern eras.

This semi-annual show brings together a group of 35+ hand-picked quality dealers from throughout the Midwest. Among the categories represented at the show will be Advertising, Americana, Art, Country, Folk Art, Furniture, Glass, Military Memorabilia, Porcelain, Post Cards, Primitives, Silver, Seasonal (including Halloween), and Victorian Jewelry.

The Central Illinois Antique Dealers Association Show is one of the longest running shows in Illinois. Known for its quality... which continues today... the Central Illinois Antique Dealers Association and promoters will bring you another quality show you won't want to miss. Mark your calendars and plan now to attend.

Follow the Central Illinois Antique Dealers Association on FACEBOOK and check out its website: www.centralilantiquedealers.org. Information: 217.469.2256. Dealer inquiries welcome.

49th Year Cedarburg Maxwell Street Days

This event has been a Volunteer Fire Department Tradition since 1966 and the major fundraiser for our Department. Currently we have 4 Maxwell Street Days each year and all take place at our Firemen's Park - W65 N796 Washington Avenue, just a few blocks north of Cedarburg's historic district. Get directions to Firemen's Park.

We have over 600 spaces available to be filled with antiques, collectibles, attic & basement treasures, crafters, produce, seasonal items, pottery, tools, sports, old toys, rummage, garage fines, family collections, vintage treasures, architectural items, farm items and much more! You will find over 100 volunteer members along with their family and friends helping to serve up food/beverages and assist you throughout the grounds. We try to have all spaces reserved prior to each of our events, but we will always keep a few spaces available prior to event for any new vendors. We are always looking for new quality vendors to join us for any event or for the entire year.

Remember that one man's junk, is another man's treasure!!

Our event opens to the public at 6am and vendors are asked to stay set-up until 2pm. Admission is FREE. There is adjacent and convenient parking to the north of grounds for $5, which is coordinated by our Cedarburg American Legion Post # 288. Event takes place rain or shine and sorry, no animals, fireworks, pornographic materials, weapons, takeoffs or counterfeit merchandise are permitted on our grounds during any of the events. It is always a great day of "Treasure Hunting" with family and friends of all ages.

The Cedarburg Volunteer Fire Department Members and their Families would like to thank you for supporting our Maxwell Street Day Fundraisers Dedicated Volunteers serving the community since 1866. All concessions rights reserved by Cedarburg Fire Department, Inc.

New Wisconsin State Champion Auctioneer

Steve Strey is the 2015 WI State Champion Auctioneer, were you there - did you see the competition and were you part of the fun of bidding on unique items. The WI State Champion Auctioneer is held at the WI State Fair each year and this year on August 11, 2015 there were 18 competitors.

Steve Strey was awarded the honor of the 2015 WI State Champion Auctioneer by a panel of 5 judges, which included various past state champions and a Hall of Fame inductee. Steve finished the event by auctioning of not one but two of the octagon bricks for the 4-H Foundation benefit.

First Runner-Up was Jim Gavin from Reedsburg, WI and is associated with Gavin Brothers Auctioneers LLC and second runner-up was Dallas Kravoletz, Bonduel, WI. The other 3 finalists were Jeremy Schafer, Lake City, MN; Ray Henry of I.R.A.Y. Auction, Foley, MN; and Randy Stockwell of RJ Stockwell, Inc. Land & Auction Co., Dorchester, WI.

The competition was held on the Main Stage in the Coliseum of the WI State Fair Park. The competition entails an initial round where all the competitors sold 2 items and then determined by the judges scores the field was narrowed to 6 finalists. The six finalists then had to answer two industry related questions and sell an additional 3 items for the final round. This competition was also a fund raiser for the 4-H Foundation with the competitors selling various items donated for the 4-H Foundation.

Steve Strey, the 2015 WI State Champion wanted to be self-employed, so he went to auction school in 2002 at the Continental Auctioneer School in Mankato, MN in 2002. Steve grew up working on his grandparents dairy farms and purchased his own farm in 1998. Steve and his family currently farm near Foster, WI and has an 85 beef cow farm with 600 acres of crops. Steve has been married for 15 years to wife, Leslie and has one daughter Heidi who is 13.

Steve graduated from CVTC Farm Business and Production Management Course. He currently works with ProCountry Auctioneer Service selling farm machinery, livestock, real estate, construction equipment, antiques and collectibles. Steve is a partner with Scott Werlein; Scott was the 2009 WI State Auctioneer Champion. He is the past president of the Chippewa Valley Forage Council, past president of Grace Lutheran Church, current president of Eau Claire County Farm Bureau, member of the Augusta FFA Alumni.

Steve Strey as the 2015 WI State Champion Auctioneer is available for various benefit auctions as his schedule allows, you may contact the Wisconsin Auctioneers Association 608 558 5041 or info@wisconsinauctioneers.org.

The Wisconsin Auctioneers Association is a non-profit trade association that exists for the purpose of promoting the growth and professionalism of the auction method of marketing and Auctioneering in the State of Wisconsin. Perfume Bottle Collectors Spring Up Down Under Sydney, Australia - The Australian Chapter of the International Perfume Bottle Association (IPBA) will meet on September 19, 2015 in Sydney, Australia for their inaugural meeting. Perfume bottle and ephemera collectors are coming from as far away as New Zealand and Perth, Australia (approx. 3,000 miles).

The group began to organize in 2013 when Marie Cashman, a retired nurse and organizer of the event, became curious to know if there were other perfume bottle collectors in Australia. Marie began collecting at the age of 16 when she fell in love with the design of 1920s, unidentified perfumer, "Pour Vous", Czechoslovakian blown glass presumed to be Hetra Co.

search brought her to the IPBA website and has a wide and varied collection. Marie states, "Initially I thought about setting up a Facebook Chapter for Australian members since the biggest challenge we have for a gathering, is the size of the country. It is almost as big as the U.S. with only a handful of collectors, and they are scattered." The Facebook Chapter was launched in May of 2014 and was met with much enthusiasm and has been very successful including members joining in from other countries.

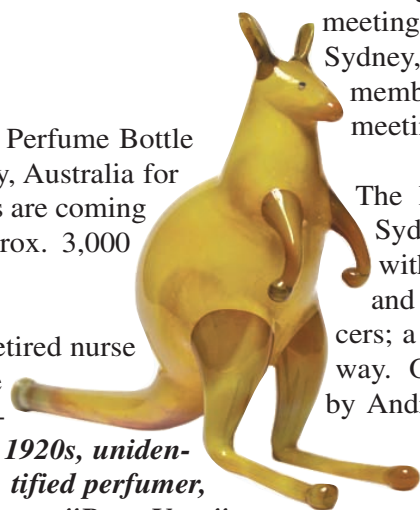

Christy Romance.

Probably from the late

1940s when the men returned from the war and Romance was high on the agenda for the young women and men of Australia.

The IPBA has approximately 1,000 members in 22 countries around the world. The Australian Facebook Chapter is the 2nd International Chapter of the IPBA alongside a very active Chapter in the U.K. and the first Facebook Chapter. Following this success Marie with the help of Susan Arthur, the IPBA's Immediate Past President, met with members from around Australia on a Skype conference call on IPBA Day,

October 18, 2014, where they shared their passion for collecting perfume bottles and other vintage vanity items. Since it all began there have been occasional meetings with members in small, informal coffee shop sessions in Sydney, but Marie wanted to see if there was any interest in the distant members getting together for a mini-convention and so the inaugural meeting idea was born.

The location is at Marie's residence in beautiful Frenchs Forest, Sydney. There are about 30 members and guests expected to attend with the number still growing. The agenda is a full one with a Show and Tell session; a business meeting including the election of officers; a Buy, Swap and Sell session; a raffle and many treats along the way. One very special highlight for the meeting will be a presentation by Andrea Lowenthal on "Australian perfumes - The Golden Years", turn-of-the-century perfume bottles. Andrea leaves no stone unturned in her search for Australian perfumes. Marie states, "I just want everyone to have a good time. After all that's what it's all about."

Since the launch of the Facebook Chapter the membership in Australia has almost doubled from approx 15 members to 30 members including 2 young collectors (ages 7-18) in a very short time, and two quality newsletters have been produced. Even though it's winter time Down Under, perfume bottle and ephemera collectors are happily springing up!

For more information on what's up Down Under or perfume bottle collecting visit the IPBA website at www.perfumbottles.org.

For more information on Aussie perfume bottles visit Andrea's web address: www.andreascollection.com.au

Parviola Red Rose a rare bottle from this Australian company. The bottle is a standard type with no distinguishing marks. The label gives the address of Parviola - Normanby Street, Melbourne.

Sold Out Kalamazoo BB Gun Show Draws Dealers From Across the Country

Article & photos by Jack Kelly

It was a 3,000 mile one round trip for Terry Wittaker of Banner, Wyo., who didn't come to sell but to show off a jaw dropping collection of rare 1887 to 1923 Quackenbush air rifles, plus 1880s to 1920s cast metal targets. "I've been collecting for about 60 years, since age 10 or 11," said Wittaker, adding, "the more you poke, the more you find."

It was a bit shorter drive for George Mitchell, driving to Kalamazoo from Milburn, Iowa. He also was "showing only, but not selling," and covered several tables with 24-to 36-inch tall cardboard advertising signs featuring famed cowboy Red Ryder and others, all promoting BB guns from pre-and post-World War II eras. "I enjoy getting them out once a year," Mitchell said with a chuckle. "And I like looking at them as much as others do who visit the show."

Many folks came to the event with selling on their mind - and at least one entire collection being offered. Billy Joe Woods of Brighton, Mich., posted a sign stating "For Sale Daisy 1894 Collection" with a detailed list of items, "for a price of $6,000." The 78-year-old collector noted his age and said family members not having an interest in his hobby as reasons for the sale. He quickly added, "oh I'll be back to visit the show."

Similar comments were made by 35-year veterans Gary and Jeanette Brockman of Dundee, Mich., who liquidated the remaining stock of their collection at the August event. "We've met so many wonderful people here over the years," Jeanette said with a smile. "And we even ended up with our photo in a toy book," said Gary. The two are shown with a table full of cap guns at an earlier Kalamazoo BB Gun Show featured in the newly published "Picker's Pocket Guide Toys" by Eric Bradley.

Many people setting up at the show were helped by family members. Bob Bocaccio and 9 year old grandson Josh drove more than eight hours from Holley, NY., to offer a 1930s Daisy Model 1129 BB rifle with "one side in good condition" for $45, and a "never opened box of plastic toy pea shooters" for the younger set.

"I've got a pretty helper," said Scott Evans of Monroe, Mich., pointing to his wife Dee. Advertising and BB gun collectors hovered over his early 1900s 3-by 5-inch folded paper piece for King BB guns priced at $125. Toy collectors admired his 1950s Daisy Rocket Dart Pistol with original package and cardboard mounting board priced at $375.

Show promoter Wes Powers was assisted by 17-year-old grandson Logan in showing off a 1923 Crosman "first model" pellet rifle that could be taken home for $1,100. Powers also called attention to a Daisy prototype Quick-Kill rifle designed for training U.S. Vietnam War soldiers and priced at $3,000.

"It took me 120 hours to restore it," said Larry Gibson of Portand Ind., pointing with pride to a pristine 1967 double-barreled Daisy Model 21 BB gun, complete with custom wood stock. "You can take it home for $1,295," he said to a customer looking over his prize piece.

Benjamin air gun collectors checked out the examples shown by Dennis Baker of Mt. Victory, Ohio, which included a 310 model priced at $150 and a model 392 tagged at $250. The dealer said he offered about 75 different items at the Kalamazoo Fairgrounds event.

"We're pretty much all Daisys," said Larry Sutherland of Blissfield, Mich., looking over two display boards showing examples of many of the popular rifles. In all, the dealer offered 25 different examples priced from $125 to $300.

Toy cap guns and related items also are a popular part of the annual event.

Eighty-year-old dealer Patrick Keebey drove 10 hours from St. Peters, MO., to offer cap guns from the 1950s and 60s priced from $60 to $250 each. His toy Ohio Art tin Carnival Shooting Gallery could be taken home for $100.

It'll be 2016 before the group meets again in Kalamazoo with a tentative date sometime in August. The annual gathering will also celebrate its 25th anniversary in two years, with promoter Powers saying there will be a celebration at that time.

For further information contact: wespowers@comcast.net or call (517) 423-4148.

Foot traffic halted abruptly at the booth of Terry Wittaker, of Banner, Wyo., who proudly displayed 1887 to 1923 Quackenbush rifles - and iron targets, but none were for sale. 307-673-1650.

A table full of 1940-50s cap guns could be fired at your home for from dealer Houston Coates from Cincinnati, Ohio. The dealer also posted a sign advertising his interest in WWI and WWII items. 513-583-9301

"We're pretty much all Daisys," Said Larry Sutherland of Blissfield, Mich., as he pauses over his display of popular rifles tagged at $125 to $300. 517-486-3008

Logan Powers, 17, grandson of show promoter Wes Powers, checks over the rare prototype Quick-Kill rifle designed for training U.S. Vietnam war soldiers. It was priced at $3,000. 517-423-4148

Once again, George Mitchell of Milburn, Iowa, set up and showed off unusual for viewing but “not for sale” BB gun store advertising displays at the Kalamazoo show. The collector also showed off both sides of his custom-printed t-shirt. 515-677-2618.

It took 120 hours to restore the 1967 Daisy double barrel shot gun offered at $1,295 by Larry Gibson of Portland, Ind. At the same spot a 2008 Daisy Buck Rogers pistol could be taken home for $200.

A trio of paper targets with vintage advertising on the back sold quickly at the fairgrounds show.

Dealers received two never-used Daisy International Air Gun Museum postcards as part of their welcoming packet.

It was only minutes away from the fairgrounds for Gary Sage of nearby Galesburg, Mich. Red Ryder collectors “oohed and ahhed” over his advertising bread wrapper, priced at $40 and glow in the dark patch, tagged at $200. Both carried the mention of the famous cowboy. 309-342-7046.

An advertising sign offering his entire collection for sale, for $6,000 was posted by Billy Joe Woods. 810-229-2673.

One visitor's mini van showed a bumper sticker showing his favorite BB gun brand.

Josh Henhawk, grand son of dealer Bob Boccaccio of Holley, N.Y. checks over the box of pea shooters offered at the annual event. 585-638-6389.

Dennis Baker of Mt Victory, Ohio, right, checks out a vintage air rifle needing repair at the Kalamazoo show. The dealer's business card reads, “sales and service on all air guns.” 937-660-9152.

Show Raises Important Funding for Historic Preservation and Scholarships October 2 & 3, 2015 Waukesha (Milwaukee) Wisconsin

Article & photos by Debbie McArdle (Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association)

Ever wonder what happens to the money you pay for admission to an antiques show? If it's a Wisconsin Antiques Dealer Association show, the "gate" funds historic preservation and scholarships within Wisconsin!

Acting, since 2009, as the founding and continuing sponsor of the "30th Star Benefit Antiques Auction" produced by the Friends of the Wisconsin Historical Society, WADA provides "seed money" for their biennial auctions. The most recent historic preservation project involved window treatments and upholstery at Black Point Estate in Lake Geneva, built in the 1880s by the wildly successful brewer, Conrad Seipp. WADA's grant dollars were designated specifically to aid in the restoration of a portrait of Mrs. Catharina Seipp, matriarch of Black Point. That restored portrait has resumed its original position in the main entrance of the Victorian summer home. Textile restoration &/or replacement has also taken place with funding generated at the antiques auction.

As a public service at their October show, WADA is again providing a free booth to the Friends of the Wisconsin Historical Society. Visitors to the show may bring their donations of items more than 50 years old for the April, 2016 "30th Star Benefit Antiques Auction". Volunteers will be on hand to provide tax deductible receipts for antique and vintage donations.

Other recent recipients of grants from the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association are: Price County Historical Society, Fifiield; Israel Stowell Temperance House, Delavan; Rock County Historical Society, Janesville; Richfield Historical Society, Richfield; New Holstein Historical Society, New Holstein; and Hawks Inn Historical Society, Delafield. Visit the WADA show or their website for details on how to apply for 2016 grants.

Scholarships are also a priority with the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association. During the 2014-2015 school year, WADA provided scholarships to high school seniors at Oconomowoc High School and Mukwonago High School, (the latter also a volunteer at the Waukesha County Museum). See www.WisconsinAntiquesDealers.com for details about the 2015-2016 scholarship competition.

Added bonus: Daryl Alpers of Iowa will be providing a free educational display of his massive antique graniteware collection. Come see the unusual!

Attend the upcoming 64th Fall Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show October 2 & 3 and show your support for the scholarship and preservation projects so important to our state.

The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, WI 53188, is the home of this event. Show hours are Friday, 10-8 and Saturday, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a traditional Wisconsin Fish Fry will be served late Friday afternoon and evening so bring your appetite! Remember, admission of $6.00 funds scholarships for high school students as well as grants to Wisconsin historic and heritage groups.

American Cut Glass Association

The American Cut Glass Association is devoted to the study and research of American Brilliant Cut Glass. The Brilliant Period lasted from approximately 1876 to around 1914. The Association offers a number of member benefits including a newsletter published 10 times a year, an annual convention, regional chapters, and Brilliant Weekends - special events held by ACGA chapters.

The ACGA's website homepage consists of some cut glass illustrations, a welcoming statement, bulletin board and navigation menu. This menu, serving as a site map, does an excellent job of directing first time visitors to the various sections on the website.

Divided into five columns, there is a column of features on the American Cut Glass Association, itself, including their history, organization, code of ethics, endowment fund and gifts & Acquisitions fund. another column offers segments on member benefits while a third column features information and photos of examples of Brilliant Cut Glass. The fourth and fifth column comprise information on the ACGA Store and contact information.

This is a very functional club website and serves the ACGA well.

Griswold and Cast Iron Cookware Association

Our Mission:

To create a forum for enthusiasts to share information about the Griswold Manufacturing Company, as well as other cast iron cookware manufacturers and their products.

To facilitate and promote the research of Cast Iron Cookware & other related Items.

To pursue actions to halt the manufacture and distribution of fakes and reproductions.

To provide an official and recognized service for appraisals of cast iron cookware and related items. All leading to the increased enjoyment of collecting "Griswold" and other cast iron cookware.

Mine to Mill: History of the Great Lakes Iron Trade Phillip J. Stager

- Picture postcards of the iron ore trade on the Great Lakes from 1900 to 1980 • From the Lake Superior iron ranges to the ore docks and Soo Locks
- Far more accurate and detailed than any postcard book on the subject

The history of the iron ore trade on the Great Lakes, from 1900 to 1980, is perhaps best related in visual form. Historians and enthusiasts alike can now learn about this important part of our country's industrial heritage in nearly 300 views of the mines, railroads, loading docks, and ships of the Great Lakes. Through the medium of the picture postcard, discover the underground and huge open-pit mines on the iron ranges in Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota, and ride the rails as the iron is moved from the mines to the giant loading docks at the Upper Lake ports. In calm seas and stormy weather, travel from these ports to the international locks at Sault St. Marie, in Michigan and Ontario. The accurate descriptions and comprehensive deltiological information will appeal to postcard collectors, rail and nautical enthusiasts, industrial archeologist, and lovers of Great Lakes history.

Phillip J. Stagers is a retired US Coast Guard officer and naval engineer and life-long stamp & postcard collector. He has assembled numerous national and international award-winning stamp and postcard exhibits on a wide variety of subjects.
