Perfect Location, Perfect Day, for Inaugural Octagon House Antique Show in Watertown, Wisconsin

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

Dozens of area antiques purveyors gathered on September 12th for a brand-new event: the First Annual Octagon House Antiques Show & Sale. Perfect autumn weather reigned for the inaugural show, which took place in the shadow of the imposing Richards Octagon House in downtown Watertown, Wisconsin. The popular historic site was a wonderful setting for the event, situated high on a hill overlooking the Rock River valley.

The First Annual Octagon House Antique Show was held right on the grounds of the Octagon House Museum, a five-story brick home in Watertown, Wisconsin that is one of the state's largest pre-Civil War single family homes and a modern marvel in its day. # Out & About Fall has arrived and the farmers are on the move. It is always a challenge to maneuver around the large tractors. It is common to have four large tractors travel together north and then the next day or so, travel back south.

The hardest part is when you travel in the dark and having lights shine sideways at you and realizing that it is tractors in the fields.

It is also time to close some of those cabins for the season. I have a summer car that is great on gas mileage but I don't like to drive in the winter. So in the next couple of weeks, I will have to park it for the winter and get the four wheel drive out. Hockey season has arrived! Brandon has tryouts this week, by next week, we will know what team he will play for.

Wisconsin's 1854 Octagon House Museum hosts Antiques Show to Benefit Watertown Historical Society

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

Well, it'd be hard to describe a more perfect day: a sunny Saturday morning at one of Wisconsin's best-known historical sites, surrounded by dozens of the Badger State's finest antiques dealers. That's where I spent Saturday, September 12th - date of the First Annual Octagon House Antique Show & Sale in historic Watertown, Wisconsin. Held to benefit the Watertown Historical Society, the show was held right on the grounds of the iconic 1854 brick home.

The home was built by early Watertown settlers John and Eliza Richards, who had moved some years earlier to the area. By 1853, the town was booming along with the Richards' mill business, and the couple purchased the 105-acre parcel above the river with the intention of building a home befitting their social status.

Richards chose the design of the structure himself: an octagonal floor plan, which had been popularized by several architects and authors of the day as a more efficient and economical alternative to the more traditional rectangular home. The three-story home measures exactly fifty-feet across, and boasts more than fifty rooms.

And although it was one of the largest pre-Civil War homes to have been built in Wisconsin, it's not a traditional mansion. Meant as a working house, it was built largely of local brick and lumber. The millwork came from trees cut right on the property, milled of course at the Richards' lumber mill in town. The family resided on the first two floors, while employees of the mill were housed in several rooms on the top level. And surprisingly, Mrs. Richards employed no permanent staff: she and her daughters prepared meals for the workers who dined right along with the family downstairs.

But of course, we were here for an antiques show. Around three-dozen dealers exhibited at this inaugural edition of the event, some under two tents, some on the lawn proper. The Rock Step Antiques was among them, bringing classic Americana the Richards would have felt at home with. And furniture was the focus at Beneath the Dust and Village Blacksmith Antiques, where shoppers found a wide array of both restored and original-paint country furnishings.

Looking for something a bit more funky? There was lots to choose from all over the show. Cynthia Weston's Divine Treasures came with a great mix of colorful vintage finds, from folk art furniture to a matched pair of humorous life-sized husband & wife lawn ornaments. And right next door at Country Cupboard Antiques sat some wonderful children's toys, including an adorable kid-sized Daton wheelbarrow and an early Overland coaster wagon sporting steel-rimmed wooden wheels. A look at the photos will give you an idea of all the treasures you missed!

Of course, the Octagon House is always worth a trip in itself. It was considered state-of-the art in 1854, complete with central heating and running water. After residing in the home for eighty years, the last of Richards grandchildren passed away in the 1930s, and the family donated the property to the fledgling Watertown Historical Society. They've been good stewards to the home, most recently completing an exhaustive restoration to the exterior in 2006. The home today looks much like it would have in its heyday, complete with many of its original furnishings.

The Octagon House is open daily for guided tours from May through October, with special Christmas tours on the last week in November. Also on the property: America's first Kindergarten building, founded by Watertown educator Margarethe Meyer Schurz in 1856. Just phone the Watertown Historical Society at 920-261-2796 or visit www.watertownhistory.org for all the details. And as always, keep an eye out for next year's Octagon House Antique Show & Sale in the Auction Action Antique News!

Another local treasure on display in the Octagon House: this 5'-tall mystery clock known as the Salick Clock. Made by local jeweler and clocksmith Joseph Salick in 1864, it was displayed in the window of his shop for decades after.

The lower level of the Octagon House contains a large collection of local Watertown artifacts, including a huge sheet iron lion weathervane figure that once graced the roof of the town's long-closed Hartig Brewery.

Also on the Octagon House Museum grounds: the the structure that housed the nation's first kindergarten, founded by Watertown educator Margarethe Meyer Schurz in 1856! Originally located nearby, the building was moved to the site and restored by the Watertown Historical Society sixty years ago.

On the tour of the 1854 Octagon House you'll see the continuous five-story spiral staircase that winds through the center of the structure, plus rooms with period furniture original to the imposing home.

Drug Stores and Dime Stores Provide Treasures for the November Rich Penn Auction Event

Coca-Cola Salesman's Sample Cooler, c.1939, complete w/replacement "Business Builder" booklet, Exc prof restored cond, 10.25" x 12.25"W x 7.25"D.

Mechanical bank, Lion and Two Monkeys, Pat Jul 17, 1883, cast iron w/orig paint, designed by Louis Kyser & Alfred C. Rex, mfgd by Kyser & Rex, VG working cond w/some paint loss, 9"H

The Iowa State Fairgrounds in Des Moines, IA is the location for the November 7 & 8 Rich Penn Auction Event. The featured collection will be Drug Store memorabilia. The late Ron Shear's Drug Store Apothecary and Show Globe collection all comes to auction, without reserve. The Shear collection has often been referred to as one of the premier collections of show globes in the U.S. Ron had a lengthy career as a pharmacist and had collected for many of those years. He had an astute eye for the most striking pieces. Dozens of magnificent examples of his collecting will be offered. Along with the show globes will be a wide variety of displays, Bromo and Alka Seltzer counter pieces, mortars & pestles, scales, syrup dispensers, candy jars, NOS over-the-counter products and dozens of miscellaneous pieces. For those who love to collect Drug Store items, this will be a tremendous auction!

Like the Drug Stores, the Dime Stores of yesterday were an equally exciting source for items offered at this auction. Many of the toys collected today were sold in those Dime Stores all across America. The stores no longer exist. But the toys that were sold there found their way into the hands of youngsters who treasured and carefully played with them. They were well cared for and kept safe. Generations that followed have that same appreciation. This auction will offer the opportunity for many great toys to find new appreciative homes. From pressed steel, tin litho windups, many with boxes, to dozens of Lionel trains, classic cast iron Arcade and Hubley toys and even mechanical banks, there's a great variety for all collectors. The trains include nearly a hundred lots of great "O" gauge Lionel trains, many with boxes. Windups include Lehman, Unique Art, Marx, Wolverine, Chein, Gunthermann and others.

For the collectors of larger toys...there's a wide variety of coin-operated arcade and slot machines and a number of excellent restored trade stimulators. Among those machines are two classic juke boxes. The c.1947 Wurlitzer 1015 juke box, "the bubbler" and the c.1940 AMI "Singing Towers" are both examples of beautiful period industrial design. If you want more than tunes...arcade collectors can swat at the puck in an excellent original Chicago Coin "Goalee" hockey machine. Or, take a chance on winning some pocket change with one of several fabulous c.1955 Jennings light up Star Chief slot machines. Other Jennings machines are from famous casinos; the Las Vegas Stardust, Riviera, Flamingo, Thunderbird and others.

The "Man Cave" can be further decorated with a nice selection of choice petroliana pieces, including neon signs. One of the more highly sought after gas globes offered is the glass body oval Mobiloil Pegasus with raised lettering. A companion piece is the Cigar lighter & cutter, Fidler's El Rocco 5 Cent Cigar, H.F. Filer & Co. Makers, mfgd by The Brunhoff Co.-Cinc., silver-plated font w/blue glass globe, Exc cond, 12.5"H x 5.5"W.

Syrup dispenser, Ward's Orange-Crush, scarce oversized version w/old plunger-style pump w/Orange insert, Exc cond, 14.5"H.

Mobiloil bottle rack with all the original diamond bottles and pour spouts. Another choice piece is the Richfield clock, "The Gasoline of Power" for aviation fuel. In the form of a rotary aircraft engine...it's made for the collector of both petroliana and aviation.

What's a good Man Cave without a couple of classic cars. Nothing's more classic than a magnificently restored "Dodge'em" car, with a smokin flame job, or a beautifully restored 1946 Allan Herschell Kiddie Ride car. Both are perfect for the smaller visitors to the MC!

As with all Rich Penn auctions, this one also includes a number of great country store pieces, including cane cases, spool cabinets, shot and collar cabinets, oil display cases, Red Goose shoe advertising, tobacco tins and cigar cutters & lighters. Signs include a rare Vitrolite curved sign for Robert Burns 10c cigars. Other framed advertising lithos selling will be for Coca-Cola, Selz Shoes, The St. Paul Daily News and many others.

Advertising with a more contemporary appeal includes a variety of breweriana pieces. Much of the advertising is for Anheuser-Busch brands. From Neon and motion signs to early bottles, there's a "Bud for you!"

Rich Penn Auctions will offer multiple bidding options, including absentee, telephone and live bidding online through LiveAuctioneers. Find the links to the online catalog on Penn's web site. Full color catalogs will be available for $40. Prices realized will be posted online. Just contact Rich Penn Auctions at 319-291-6688 to order yours. Go to www.RichPennAuctions.com to register or to preview the auction. Absentee and phone bidding is always welcome.

RummageARama! Moves To New Venue To Join With Brand New WI Antique & Vintage Show

Article by Tim Gill (Open Productions LLC)

RummageARama!, Milwaukee's largest indoor flea market event, is leaving its long-occupied venue, the Wisconsin State Fair Park, to join forces with the newly formed Wisconsin Antique and Vintage Show at the Milwaukee County Sports Complex in Franklin, WI. The events will debut at this new venue, which is twice as big as the prior venue, on December 5-6, 2015, January 30-31, 2016, and March 12-13, 2016. Saturday's from 9am to 4pm, and Sunday's from 9am to 3pm.

Tim Gill, co-owner of Open Productions, which promotes these two events, is very optimistic and excited for the changes. "By switching venues, we have the opportunity to grow our show in ways we couldn't have imagined at State Fair Park. Customers will have twice as many vendors to shop, a large rest area with concessions and arcade games for the kids, and best of all, lots of FREE, accessible parking," says Gill.

The new Wisconsin Antique and Vintage Show will feature over 100 vendors who sell items that are at least 25 years old. "We wanted to build a new brand that highlights the antique, vintage, and collectible items that were already present at Rummage-A-Rama!, and attract vendors who haven't sold with us before. If one hasn't shopped our event in the past, he wouldn't expect to find such items. So, we're taking a separate marketing approach to draw in those customers," says Gill.

One admission price grants entry to both shows, which occupy the same building, separated by an open aisle with seating. Admission is $5 per person or $3 with a two item food donation for Hunger Task Force. As always, kids 12 & under are FREE.

Vendor space is still available for the shows. For more information, or to become a vendor, visit www.rummage-a-rama.com.

The 58th Midwest Antique & Art Show Is Coming To Cedar Rapids, Sunday, October 25th

Article & photos by Lou & Colleen Picek (The Midwest Antique & Art Show)

The Midwest Antique and Art Show in conjunction with The Collector's Eye Antique Show will be presented Sunday, October 25th at Hawkeye Downs Fairgrounds in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. This show has earned a well-deserved reputation for attracting highly regarded exhibiting dealers, nationally known for outstanding presentation of great examples of American Folk Art and Americana. Dealers Dennis Raleigh from Maine, Mario Polo from Massachusetts, Sam & Denise Scott from Rhode Island, David Good from Ohio and Jean Compton from Texas are examples of excellent dealers coming from the farthest distances but there will be 105 other esteemed dealers from all across the United States. Recently, the show has added 10 dealers specializing in Art Deco and mid 20th Century modern furniture and furnishings. This has been very well received by younger buyers with progressive tastes. Art of all kinds is the main attraction of the show. Whether it be the proportions and original surface of an 18th century piece of furniture or a carved wooden cigar store Indian or a naïve portrait of a woman from the 1830's to the innovative, original designs of mid 20th century furniture, pottery, art and related accessories. All are examples of wonderful works of art that have been offered in previous shows.

The Midwest Antique and Art Show will be presenting its 58th show and The Collector's Eye is celebrating its 10th Anniversary. Both shows are in the Expo Center building at the Hawkeye Downs Fairgrounds located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa at 4400 6th St SW. Parking is free with an $8 admission good for both shows. Hours will be 10 am until 4 pm. The entry fee is collected during the line-up before the show's opening to allow the several hundred people waiting a heart racing rush to reach the exhibits and get first chance at the offerings.

Website for both shows is www.MWAntiqueshow.com which will show photos from previous shows, dealer lists and hotel information. There is also a Facebook page for the Midwest Antique and Art Show which should be liked to receive updates of items and dealers coming to the show. The page will also present a preview of photos taken on setup shown Saturday evening, October 24th.
