Hello fellow members,

Just wanted to touch bases with you.

Some of you will remember Frank and Gayle Gamble and others might be new to the club and not familiar with them.

Frank's health has not been what it should be and the two of them haven't been to meetings for some time.

Over the past few years Frank has spoken lovingly about his 'Now Infamous' 1927 Model T that had taken on the Mystique of a true 'Urban Legend'. Having said that, Frank has decided that, due to his health, he has asked Jeff Foster, of CJ's Hot Rod Shop to take on the task of finishing the 27 'T'. It was a treat to see it in the shop and I am pleased to tell you all that I owe Frank an apology for thinking it might never happen.

While Jeff hasn't had a chance to do much with it thus far it will be fun to see it develop and I'm sure Frank will be around from time to time to keep an eye on the project.

I also hope Frank and Gayle will be back to some of the meetings in the not too distant future.

We miss them both, wish them well and hope to see them out and about in the near future.

A&W, Summer, and Classic Cars (don't forget the Oldies)!

I have been waiting for summer. I know tomorrow is the first day of spring, but I look forward to the A&W Cruise ins

I am looking forward to summer. I know, spring has arrived but I got to thinking about the A&W, and all the fun I have had in summers past that included this iconic drive-in. When I was a girl my grandma went and got a gallon of the famous root beer, and we enjoyed it out on the lawn. As a teen, we sat in our cars on a hot summer night and listened to our car radios. Things have changed for sure and the years have rolled by, but A&W is still a summer favorite. This is their 90th year. So I wanted to say thank you and share some fun WWSR pictures. I see my husband even made it into one or two. Fun memories for sure! Stroh's will start the cruise-ins soon, and life will be a dream again.

Here is a brief history of A&W from the official site. Enjoy!

In 1919, at a parade honoring returning World War I veterans in Lodi, California, Roy Allen set up a roadside drink stand to offer a new thick and creamy drink, root beer. His creation was such a success, he decided to take on a partner, Frank Wright. In 1922, Allen and Wright combined their initials to name the beverage A&W Root Beer.

Allen wasted no time opening his first permanent root beer stand in Lodi, followed by a second one in Sacramento. It featured the first "drive-in" concept with "tray-boys" for curbside service. Then, in 1924 Allen bought out Wright to pursue a franchising program, which became America's first franchised restaurant chain. He sold A&W Root Beer concentrate exclusively to these franchises to ensure quality. By 1933, more than 170 outlets were franchised.

During WW II, A&W Root Beer stands increased in number, despite government sugar rationing. After the war, more than 450 franchises were open, driven by the popularity of the automobile and the new mobile society. In 1950, Roy Allen retired and sold the business to Gene Hurtz. In 1963, Mr. Hurtz sold the A&W Root Beer Company to the J. Hungerford Smith Company.

More ownership changes took place during the 60s and 70s, but the only place you could get A&W Root Beer was on tap at an A&W Restaurant. However, Americans wanted to enjoy it at home, too.

And in 1971, they were able to do just that. A&W cans and bottles were an instant hit when they were first introduced in Arizona and California. Then, in 1974, A&W Sugar-Free was born. In 1986, A&W Cream Soda and A&W Diet Cream Soda were introduced and distributed nationally. Then in 1987, Sugar-Free A&W was reformulated as Diet A&W.

In the March 1995 acquisition of Dr Pepper/Seven-Up Companies, Inc., by Cadbury Schweppes plc, of London, A&W became part of the renamed Dr Pepper/Seven Up, Inc. Today, regular and Diet A&W Root Beer are the number one root beers in all measurable channels. A&W Cream Soda is the top branded cream soda.

Much has changed since Roy Allen first sold root beer on that summer day in 1919, but the one thing that hasn't is the rich, smooth taste of A&W Root

Member Profile

Niccole Miller

Niccole has been with WVSR for 8 months, she was brought to the club by Gary Reznick. Nicole says that even though Pam Foster influenced her decision to join the club, it was really her "love for hot rods and her desire to learn" more about them. Niccole is a happy person. I have never seen her without a smile on her face. She and her partner Paul Geck have brought a little bit of sunshine to the meetings and activities. She and Paul jumped on the bandwagon early and signed on as Treasurer and Secretary. Great examples of how to get involved, and how to "cultivate friendships based on FUN common interests and joyful events".

Niccole and Paul have a 1966 Chevy pick-up in "hugger orange", a 1971 Nova (project car), and a 1991 Firebird described by Nicole as a "donor car". Paul is owner of Geck Co. Classic Car Restorations, so even though Nicole describes herself as a "hot rodette baby in training", somehow I think she is a bit more knowledgeable than she lets on!

This beautiful lady might claim to be a novice at hot rodding, but she is a no novice at the pool table! Niccole current shoots pool on a league with their team being number 1 out of 14 teams. She says she enjoys this "incredibly lighthearted, skillful fun" and it is the "highlight of her week". The name of her team is Shoot Happens, and you can find her over at Jammers Bar and Grill enjoying her craft.

I find Nicole to be a very giving and delightful person. She has been active in the Lion's club, and has a "community servant's heart" when it comes to giving back. She is a people person to be sure, and her desire to enjoy those around her makes her very approachable and entertaining. Her most embarrassing moment involves some "blonde" and I will do my best to get her to share it with us. Yes, we will laugh at (I mean with) her! If you have not met Nicole personally, I encourage you to seek her out, you will come away with a smile I guarantee it!

Thank you Niccole for your candid response to our questionnaire, and your giving, gregarious, and grateful presence. We are so glad you are part of Willamette Valley Street Rods!
