Privacy policy

This privacy policy describes how Army of God International Gospel Centre collects and uses the personal information you provide on our Web site: www.armyofgodigc.org. It also describes the choices available to you regarding our use of your personal information and how you can access and update this information.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorized access or disclosure we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

It is our goal is to create an environment of sharing and spiritual growth. We respect your privacy and hold it as one of our top priorities. We are not focused on gaining a large source of personal information on our users and are committed to keeping your information confidential. Any information that we request on our forms and email is strictly for internal office use.

We take every precaution to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the Website, your information is protected both online and off-line. Likewise, your personal information will never be sold to a mailing list service. If, at any time, you have a concern, question or suggestion about our privacy practices, please contact us.

Internet Protocol Address

We collect an IP address from all visitors to our site. An IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer when you use the Internet. IP addresses are not linked to personally identifiable information. We may use IP addresses to help diagnose problems with our server, administer our site, analyze trends, track users' movement, gather broad demographic information for aggregate use in order for us to improve the site, and to deliver customized, personalized content.

Links to Other Web Sites

Our Site includes links to other Web sites whose privacy practices may differ from those of Army of God International Gospel Centre. If you submit personal information to any of those sites, your information is governed by their privacy policies. We encourage you to carefully read the privacy policy of any Web site you visit.

How we use cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyze web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

Credit Card and other Sensitive Data

Army of God IGC utilizes secure transaction methods (SSL) when collecting credit card information over the Internet. Bank account and credit card numbers are not stored in Army of God IGC information systems, and we have no access to those numbers.

Even though our systems only allow access to authorized staff, we do not store any credit card or sensitive payment information in our databases. We don't even have access to cardholder data related to recurring donations because these are stored with the payment gateway operators as "secure payment profiles".

Payment Card Industry (PCI) Data Security Standard (DSS) compliance

The PCI DSS is a worldwide information security standard assembled by the Payment Card Industry Security Standards Council (PCI SSC). The standard was created to help organizations that process card payments safeguard cardholder information, prevent credit card fraud and improve consumer confidence. The PCI DSS is a multifaceted security standard that includes requirements for security management, policies, procedures, network architecture, software design and other critical protective measures.
