As cool as the other side of the pillow: Honoring the life and legacy of Stuart Scott

By Shelby Jefferson – Telegram Staff Reporter

Earlier this month, I was deeply saddened to hear that legendary sports anchor Stuart Scott had succumbed to cancer at the age of 49. As an avid sports fan growing up, my daily regimen always began with an episode of SportsCenter. As I prepared for school every morning, I gleamed with delight as I dissected Michael Jordan's latest victory, or the top ten count-down of plays from the night before. But perhaps what I most looked forward to was

Conversation on Crime

Inkster Police Department to partner with Western Wayne County NAACP

The recent conflicts between local police departments and various communities have shown a light on problems across the United States. To ensure the problems that erupted in Ferguson, Missouri,

Southfield Michigan, New York, Cleveland and Grosse Point don't happen in Wayne County, the Western Wayne NAACP is hosting Conversations on Crime through the

Romulus State of the City shows that Teamwork Makes the Dream Work

By: Gina Steward

Romulus Mayor Leroy Burcroff stopped by to chat with Romulus residents during luncheon

ROMULUS – Mayor LeRoy Burcroff gave his second State of the City presentation Tuesday, January 6, 2015 at the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce luncheon. The Mayor gave both an overview of the 2014 completed initiatives and activities as well as a look ahead at upcoming 2015 projects.

Core values and ethics were consistent themes in Mayor Burcroff's address specifically honesty, innovation, solutions-oriented culture and trust.

Of the 50 tasks and projects that Mayor Burcroff and his team took on in 2014, 91% were completed during their assigned quarter. The Mayor
