

Solution to Quiz

1. Hardware, Software, People, Procedures, Data
2. Structural Independence exists when it is possible to make changes to a file structure without affecting the application program's ability to access data.
3. A Data Model is collection of concepts that can be used to describe the structure of a database
4. Data Integrity is the condition in which all of the data in a database are consistent with the real-world events and conditions. i.e., Data are accurate and verifiable (yields consistent results)
5. Orders(OrderNum, OrderDate)