Dance with the Weather Spirits – with Stephen

Dance with the Weather Spirits with Stephen

Stephen's inner visions of a damaged world—climate change and ecological disasters from another perspective:

"One of my main goals is to show people how alive and sensitive the weather beings are. They have so much to give and want to be seen and heard. There is much pain going on at this time. Pollution, spraying chemicals in the skies and weather experimentations—these things are devastating to the weather spirits. These entities are fun, playful and do not understand why such an unbalance is happening. It's time to see them, hear them, merge with them. This will begin the healing process for us AND them. Once you have tasted the magical dance with them there is no turning back. Flow is wonderful!"

Session Duration: Typically a 3-hour session
