Peña Juvenile Justice Center, Bowie High School, and various leaders from the community such as Judges, City Leaders, and County Commissioners. The El Paso County Judge Enrique H. Peña Juvenile Justice Center participants along with Youth Service America and various local community businesses, organizations and other supporters from the community will be honored to provide the participation and leadership in this important event, Global Youth Service Day.
- Description of how the community was impacted:
 - By the revitalization of a historical El Paso Landmark, we mobilized our youth through community engagement and education of local history. The El Paso County Juvenile Probation Department along with its Community Improvement Program provided juveniles community service learning involvement by participating in Global Youth Service Day at Trinity Community Center on April 12, 2014 –April 13, 2014.
- A descriptive story about an individual youth who was particularly active in the project – emphasize the youth’s academic engagement, workforce skills, or civic engagement:

- 9 local youth in the community were able to learn, collaborate, and partner with a local artist/muralist Jesus “Cimi” Alvarado to create the signs for the center.

- A descriptive story about a project that resulted in significant change on an issue – emphasize what changed in the community as a result of the project:
 - Friday, April 11, 2013 with a Kick-off event located inside the secured portions of the El Paso County Juvenile Probation Department. Juveniles in the Detention and Challenge Academy sections had researched local history of the El Paso Region. Change happened starting, on April 12 – 13, 2014 (Saturday & Sunday) when over 50 youth/juveniles concentrated their efforts towards a revitalization of a local El Paso Landmark that has stood its test of time since the early 1890's. This change will hopefully bring positive attention and pride to an already impoverished area of El Paso, TX. The facility has a long history of bringing change to the El Paso Region, locally and nationally. And, hopefully this event will continue to move forward and our youth will learn to take pride in their communities, and in them. More importantly, we hope our youth realize no matter kind of past they may have had...they can always change for the better and move forward into a positive, productive way of life, similarly like the building they worked on.
